Flag marches taken out to send a message

Holidays for degree colleges extended till Wednesday, no decision on pre-university institutions yet

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

AHEAD of high schools reopening on Monday, paramilitary forces and police personnel conducted flag marches at various places across the state, including Udupi, on Friday. Meanwhile, the government extended holidays for colleges and universities till Wednesday, though a decision on opening of pre-university colleges is yet to be taken.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai directed police and the Education Department officials to be vigilant to prevent any untoward incidents.

Flag marches were conducted at Udupi -- where the controversy started, Hubballi-Dharwad, Chitradurga, Davanagere and other cities and towns. In some places, police personnel were deployed near educational institutions to keep an eye on any suspicious activities.

Bommai met Higher Education Dr Ashwath Narayan, Primary and Secondary Education BC Nagesh, Home Minister Araga Jnanendra, DCs, police and Education department officials to review the situation before reopening of schools. He directed them to prevent untoward incidents, not to neglect even small developments and to keep an eye on social media posts. He also told them to take local leaders, religious heads, teachers and parents into confidence.

In Udupi, the Rapid Action Force and police personnel, including SP Vishnuvardhan and DySP Siddalingappa, took part in the route march.

Late on Friday evening, the Department of Collegiate and Technical Education announced that colleges and universities will be closed till February 16. However, exams will be held as per schedule. College managements have been told to conduct online classes, said Dr Ashwath Narayan. The holiday rule is applicable to all government, aided, unaided degree colleges, diploma, and engineering colleges, the order stated. P4

Students are better off attending classes: HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Friday issued interim orders on the hijab row, noting that the interests of students are better served by returning to classes than by agitations and consequent closure of institutions.The interim order, confined to institutions where College Development Committees (CDCs) have prescribed dress code or uniforms for students, restrains students from wearing saffron shawls (Bhagwa), scarfs, hijab, religious flags or the like within the classroom regardless of their religion, until further orders.

The court observed that as the academic year is coming to an end shortly, "We hope and trust that all stakeholders and the public at large shall maintain peace and tranquility."

The court observed, "Ours being a civilised society, no person in the name of religion, culture or the like can be permitted to do any act that disturbs public peace and tranquility. Endless agitations and closure of educational institutions indefinitely are not happy things to happen."

The three-judge bench of Chief Justice Ritu Raj Awasthi, and Justices Krishna S Dixit and JM Khazi passed the interim order as indicated towards the end of hearing on Thursday evening, while taking up a batch of petitions filed by students from Udupi. P4

Apex court refuses to hear hijab row case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday refused to intervene in the Karnataka hijab controversy, making it clear that they will take it up at an appropriate time.

A bench headed by Chief Justice of India NV Ramana said, "You should think if such issues should be brought at the national level."

Seeking to challenge the Karnataka High Court's interim order restraining students from wearing religious garbs till it decided the issues arising out of the hijab controversy, senior advocate Devdatt Kamat urged the top court to take up the matter on Monday.

"We are also watching what's happening in the state. Constitutional rights are for everybody and this court will protect it. We will list at appropriate time," the Chief Justice of India said.

Solicitor General Tushar Mehta opposed Kamat's submission, saying the issue shouldn't be politicised.

This is the second time in as many days that the top court has refused to intervene.

On Thursday, senior advocate Kapil Sibal had urged Chief Justice of India Ramana to take up a petition filed by Fatima Bushra - a student of Government PU College, Udupi - in view of its pan-India ramifications.

Scrap recovery notices to CAA protesters: SC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday asked the UP government to withdraw the recovery notices issued to alleged anti-CAA protesters in December 2019, terming the move as contrary to the guidelines stipulated by the SC.

A bench of justices D Y Chandrachud and Surya Kant said the state government has acted like a complainant, adjudicator and prosecutor by itself in conducting the proceedings to attach the properties of the accused. "Withdraw the proceedings or we will quash it for being in violation of the law laid down by this court," the bench said, giving the state time till February 18 to do so.

The top court was hearing a plea filed by one Parwaiz Arif Titu seeking quashing of the notices sent to alleged protestors for recovering losses caused by damage to public properties during the anti-CAA stir in UP. The petitioner alleged the notices had been sent in an arbitrary manner, pointing out that notices were issued in the name of nonagenarians and even dead persons.

Additional Advocate General Garima Prashad said claim tribunals headed by retired district judges have been constituted under the new law notified in 2020, which were earlier headed by additional district magistrates. The bench said, "The Supreme Court has passed two judgements in 2009 and 2018, which said that judicial officers should be appointed in claim tribunals but instead you appointed ADMs."

Night traffic ban forces groom to walk for 2km

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

A marriage party, especially the groom, was caught in a traffic gridlock in the ghats on Friday as the Madras High Court has banned night traffic from Bannari-Dimbam till Karayapalyam on the Karnataka-Tamil Nadu border.

As the road is closed from 9 pm to 6 am for all vehicles, the marriage party had to walk nearly 2 km to reach the Bannari temple as it was getting late for the muhurtham.

The groom, all decked up in wedding attire, also had to go on the uphill trek. The onlookers who were waiting in the long queue, cheered the groom. Even after the gates were opened, it took two hours for the traffic to clear, officials said.

Brazil coffee market crashes, but no cheer for Kodagu growers

PRAJNA GR @Madikeri

THE crash in the Brazilian coffee market has sent prices of Arabica parchment coffee soaring. This could have been happy news for coffee growers of Kodagu, but it is not, as the majority of them have not benefited from this price rise.

The reason? Over the last few years, coffee growers in the district have abandoned the Arabica variety and opted for Robusta crop as they were facing problems with the former. Only a handful of farmers, who have still been maintaining Arabica coffee plantations, have earned good profits this time.

But over the years, coffee growing has become a risky business, especially due to changing weather conditions. Untimely and incessant rains have caused havoc and reduced coffee yields, pushing growers to the brink. Their dire situation can be gauged by the fact that over 40,000 farmers have applied for crop damage compensation in the district. P7

Problem-based learning helps kids: Teen girl inventor

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

GITANJALI Rao, a child prodigy and inventor, said the cause of her success was her community, a supportive environment as well as the focus on problem-based learning in schools.

Speaking at the Diaspora Diplomacy speaker series, organised by the US Mission in India, the 16-year-old talked about her experiences, her thought processes as well as her upcoming inventions. Gitanjali, an Indian-origin student from the US, is an accomplished inventor, having come to the forefront with Tethys, a device that detects lead levels in water and transmits the information over Bluetooth. "I saw my parents testing lead levels in water at home and the process was tedious, unreliable and expensive," she said. She decided to find a solution after learning about the Flint Water Crisis, where the residents had to line up just to access potable water.

Rao has also worked on numerous other inventions, aiming to work on at least one every year. "I want to be a change-maker and have an impact on society. I can't limit my start to one particular moment because it was a series of moments and an ongoing effort to come up with ideas and solutions for world problems. Not just any solutions, but simple solutions to complicated problems," she elaborated. Her ideas and inventions include a device to diagnose opiate addictions, Kindly, a cyberbullying filter, and most recently, a way to detect photo alterations on social media platforms to help boost the confidence of teenagers and reduce rates of depression.

"I am where I am because of my community. I've always grown in a supportive environment and have had a supportive family and school," she said. P7

Most parents sending kids back to school

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

As pandemic restrictions have been lifted, a majority of parents in Karnataka have been sending their children to schools, a survey conducted by the social media platform LocalCircles shows.

The survey, conducted across 22 districts in the state, found that 63 per cent of nearly 4,000 respondents were sending their wards for physical classes. The percentage may increase to 75 per cent once the positivity rate drops to 1 per cent.

According to the survey, 43 per cent of the surveyed parents said they had already been sending their children to offline classes, while 20 per cent said they started doing so when the positivity rate in their districts dropped below 5 per cent.

As of Friday, the positivity rate in Bengaluru and Karnataka stood at 3.20 per cent and 3.34 per cent. The survey found that 6 per cent of parents would send their children to schools after the positivity rate falls below 2 per cent, while another 6 per cent said they would do so once it dips below 1 per cent.

> Survey finds the number will increase if positivity rate drops

The most common places where children were at risk of catching the virus, particularly the Omicron variant, was during lunch or snack breaks. "The risk is lowest if children are wearing a N-95/KN-95 mask and having their snack/lunch outdoors or shorter school sessions without a lunch break till TPR rate declines to 1 per cent," the report stated.

Ganguly not hospitalised, in city to open 100-bed ICU at Narayana Health

BENGALURU: Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) president Sourav Ganguly will inaugurate a 100-bed Intensive Care Unit (ICU) at Narayana Health City on February 14, amid rumours that he was admitted there. Ganguly's visit to Narayana Health City on Friday, ahead of the scheduled inauguration, led to rumours about him being admitted at the facility. A statement from Narayana Health City clarified that Ganguly was at the hospital to meet Dr Devi Prasad Shetty, chairman and founder, Narayana Health, on a brief, courtesy visit ahead of the inauguration since he was in Bengaluru. In January 2021, Ganguly had suffered a mild cardiac issue for which he had undergone a primary angioplasty to clear a blockage in Kolkata. ENS

Ugly Indian takes up 500-km mission for city roads

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

TO ensure that city roads are clean and instill a sense of responsibility in people, the Ugly Indian team of Bengaluru has now started the 500 km challenge, taking a cue from their success in Mahadevapura constituency.

Using simple technologies, available on an average smartphone, 500 km of city roads are being Google mapped. In every ward, 20-30 km of main roads are being taken up in the list with the details to be made public soon and will be opened for public review and rating.

The Ugly Indian teams have mapped Bengaluru's roads within the city limits at the moment, and will gradually extend it beyond the Ring Road.

"During the pandemic we saw the city had become clean. Now maintaining it is important. It is time we move away from the ideology of depending upon someone else to fix the issue or depend upon someone else's rating. You rate the roads you travel upon. This will also put a sort of pressure on government officials as they will know they are under watch," said a member of Ugly Indian team.

Most of the major city roads are divided into wards and among different departments, which is why there is no oneness and single ownership to ensure the road is clean and well-maintained. For accountability, ownership and responsibility the 500 km task is being taken up, another member added.

The challenge first began in Mahadevapura constituency with nine km in December2021 in two wards - Doddanekundi and Gaurdacharapalya in which one lakh residents were involved. It was extended to 26 km on January 26, 2022, and by the end of January 2022, it had increased to 75km. Eventually, it was decided to extend it to other parts of the city and not limit it to only a zone.

> During the pandemic we saw the city had become clean. Now maintaining it is important. It is time we move away from the ideology of depending upon someone else to fix the issue or depend upon someone else's rating — Member of Ugly Indian team

"In this challenge, it is not just the Ugly Indian volunteers who are involved, but even residents and locals. They will review the progress and keep uploading information of the roads. We have created the road maps ourselves and documented each stretch. At present the city roads are divided into state and national highways, major roads and ward roads. Even on the BBMP website, there is no consolidated map of all city roads but ward-wise maps. So instead of 198 wards and 27 assembly constituencies, 50 loops of 10 km each are being created and each km mapped for cleanliness," the volunteer added.

Rose demand, sales and price shoot up

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

FLOWERS are blooming everywhere, not just in parks and gardens, but even in stores. The demand, sales, supply and the price of roses have shot up this year, as compared to last year, which still had the fear of Covid pandemic hovering.

It is not just because of Valentine's Day, but also due to the rise in demand for weddings and other functions post the pandemic, point out florists and members of flower traders' associations. As the government has relaxed the restrictions for gatherings and functions, the demand for flowers, especially roses, has shot up.

According to a member of the International Flowers Auction Bangalore Limited, last year during the Valentine week (from February 8-13) 4.25 lakh rose stems were sold, this year already 5.50 lakh stems have flown off the shelves.

Also, the price per stem has seen a rise. "Last year, the cost of one rose stem was Rs 32 and this year, a stem costs anywhere between Rs 25 and 30 and by February 12-13 it will go up to Rs 40. Because of the pandemic last year, the celebrations, gatherings and festivities were less. This year that does not seem to be the case and the demand is rising," he added.

Members of various trade bodies said there has been an increase in demand not just in the domestic market, but also in the international market.

Traders said there are 40 varieties and colours of roses, of which four to five are most in demand during the Valentine week. The most sought after is the Taj Mahal variety, which is dark bright red in colour. Of the total 5.50 lakh stems sold so far, 2.5 lakh are of Taj Mahal variety. Of these, 1.5-1.9 lakh are for Valentine's Day and the rest for decorations. Coming close second is the Hot Spot variety.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

12th February : Pisces is my sign of the moment, so it's a good period for all lovers. The myths tell us that the two fish of the constellation represent Aphrodite, the goddess of love, and her son Eros. Pisceans are said to be romantic people, but whenever the sign is strong everyone should make extra time for love!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Seldom have you been in such a strong position to make decisive moves. You're finding it much easier than in the past to take decisions without arousing opposition from close colleagues and associates. That's a very special skill, and one which will stand you in good stead in the future.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
You're not supposed to be an intellectual, yet Mercury's relationship to radical, revolutionary, inventive Uranus has been supplying you with the best and brightest ideas in town. You have the chance to prove all your detractors and critics completely wrong.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The Moon now turns your attention back towards routine issues of survival. Over the next few weeks you must ensure that any new offers or alterations in your earnings will be to your advantage. It's all about making certain that your dreams come true.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Even those who were once so close or supportive may now be going their own ways. Don't panic: partners, colleagues and associates will be doing you a good turn if they loosen the bonds even a little. Perhaps you should have the confidence to stand on your own feet.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Shaken, but not stirred - that's what your planets are at the moment! Even unwelcome or unexpected changes will be to your advantage in the long run, such is the beneficial power to be felt from the Sun influencing the region of your chart dealing with long-term hopes and wishes.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Current planetary activity is forcing you to look outside the narrow limits of your current existence. If you wish to resuscitate long-buried ambitions, especially in the personal sphere, now is your chance. This time you can do it without worrying about other people's opposition.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Five planets in angles of your chart ruling home and work are bound to raise major issues. The question is whether the emotional satisfaction you receive from public affairs will be sufficient to take your mind off certain family or domestic frustrations.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You have made the right moves, and now it is up to others to make the required concessions. However, if you start being unreasonable and demanding contrition from partners, events may eventually blow up in your face. Give them all the space they need to come to terms with their own behaviour.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Partners now need to have their say. You must be prepared to wait a little longer before you see your plans and ideas put into practice. And do remember that, for the next four weeks, certain additional restrictions will be placed on your freedom of action.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You're not entirely in control of circumstances at the moment. One plan or proposition cannot be developed much further until others prove they are ready to play their full part. I can see that any help and assistance you require will be forthcoming just as soon as you say the word.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Being so emotional, the Moon can be an irritating influence from the Aquarian point of view. You may be reminded of a number of responsibilities that you would rather forget or push to one side. But, then, it's always uncomfortable to face the truth.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You may be feeling rather restricted or restless, but I hope that today's gentle lunar alignments will calm you down. You will realise that it is no good longing for another time or place and that it's where you are now that counts. The answers to your questions are right under your nose!

School reopening: Officials to keep hawk's eye

Chief Minister Bommai, ministers hold discussions with district officials, police to ensure peace

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AHEAD of the reopening of schools from Monday, after they were closed in view of the hijab controversy, Home Minister Araga Jnanendra has directed the administration, including the police and Education Department officials, not to ignore any incident, however small it may seem. He also told them not to come under any pressure, and directed everyone to follow the High Court directions.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, along with Higher Education Minister Dr Ashwath Narayan, Primary and Secondary Education B C Nagesh and Jnanendra, held a meeting with district deputy commissioners, superintendents of police and Education Department officials to discuss various aspects related to reopening of schools.

Speaking to reporters after the meeting, Jnanendra said the officials concerned, especially the SPs and DCs, have been asked to visit sensitive zones and prevent any untoward incidents. He urged them to visit the schools and remain in touch with the principals, teachers, parents, college managements along with Deputy Directors of Public Instruction (DDPI) and other stakeholders. This apart, officials should also be in touch with the prominent personalities in the districts and elected representatives to ensure no disruption in peace and harmony. He also said students should be allowed to continue with their studies.

Jnanendra said action should be taken against miscreants if they try to vitiate the atmosphere or disturb peace. He also said officials should convene peace meetings in sensitive zones and convey the court directions to them while maintaining vigil on outsiders who may provoke people. "We have urged them (the SPs and DCs) to take local political leaders, religious leaders and officials into confidence for proper monitoring, along with teachers, parents and students. We have also stressed on keeping vigil on provocative social media posts," he noted.

Jnanendra said that the police have been directed to send a strong message to anti-social elements and instil fear in them. "They should get the message," he stressed. "More importantly, officials can take decisions as per the situation without waiting for orders from their seniors."

ZP, TP polls may not happen before next yr

ELECTIONS to the zilla and taluk panchayats are unlikely to be held before the Assembly elections early next year.

Speaking to media persons on Friday, Rural Development and Panchayat Raj Minister K S Eshwarappa said they will have to take into consideration the Supreme Court order on providing reservations only for SC, ST candidates and not for the OBCs in the local body elections. "This is a new challenge and I discussed it with the Chief Minister on Friday. We will decide on the future course of action after consulting experts," he said.

Indicating that it is a complicated issue, Eshwarappa said as per the SC order, they have to constitute a commission to study the backwardness of the OBCs. "Elections may not be held any time soon. I am saying this as there are issues and we will not allow injustice to the OBCs," he said and added that they cannot take a legislative route against the SC order.

"Can we hold the elections without OBC reservation? We are making all efforts to hold elections by ensuring that injustice is not done to the OBCs," the minister said, responding to a specific question if the ZP, TP elections will be held before the Assembly polls.

Sources in the government said the SC order, issued 10 years ago, was not implemented by the state and it was again reiterated during the local body elections in Maharashtra recently.

WE WANT OUR KIDS TO WEAR HIJAB: PARENTS OF 6 GIRLS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Udupi

AS the hijab row at a college in Udupi has spiralled to reach the Supreme Court, parents of some of the girls, protesting for their right to wear hijab, on Friday said it is necessary for their children to wear the headscarf inside the classroom.

"We will consult office-bearers of the Udupi Jilla Muslim Okkuta before deciding our next course of action. We opted for a legal fight as it was necessary. The college should have handled the issue better by allowing our daughters to wear hijab inside classrooms," they said.

Althaf, a parent of a girl who works as a building supervisor, said his daughter had earlier worn the hijab inside the classroom at the Government Pre University College for Girls. But it turned into a controversy on December 31, 2021. "We have no other explanation to give but to assert our point that hijab should be allowed."

Udupi Jilla Muslim Okkuta leaders too tried to resolve the issue, but the college development committee did not give permission. "It is not we who are responsible for what happened, but the college principal and CDC president," said another parent.

Okkuta president Ibrahim Saheb Kota told The New Indian Express that they will give suggestions to parents.

Another parent sought action against people who put home addresses, phone numbers and other personal details of the six girls on social media. He met Udupi Superintendent of Police Vishnuvardhan on Thursday evening and submitted a memorandum.

The SP said, "I asked the parent to submit screenshots of this information on social media. Once they give the details, we will take action."

Udupi MLA pitches for NIA probe

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Udupi

UDUPI MLA K Raghupathi Bhat, president of the college development committee at the Women's Government PU College where the hijab row first started, has sought a probe by the National Investigation Agency (NAI) into the controversy.

''Earlier we thought that only the Campus Front of India was behind the controversy, but now it is clear that the Congress is also involved," he told reporters on Friday.

He said this was not a plot cooked up by the students who are demanding to wear the hijab, but that of the CFI.

"I have written to Home Minister Araga Jnanendra and Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai asking them to hand over the hijab case to the NIA. I am sure it is a well strategised plot. I fear a threat to the nation from this hijab row. So, a detailed probe should be conducted by the NIA," he said.

The MLA said the District Muslim Okkuta has passed a resolution stating that hijab should be allowed in classroom. That may be their demand and they have the right to demand this. Muslim leaders of the District Muslim Okkuta never instigated the case. "The Muslims of Udupi district want to live peacefully, but outsiders are provoking and fuelling the controversy," he added.

Further, in a series of tweets on Friday, Bhat said the controversy is a result of CFI "instilling a sense of fanaticism" among girl students and making them demand hijab in the classroom. "This is a deliberate move," he said.

Farmers seek market price for land, lay siege to BDA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE ambitious Peripheral Ring Road (PRR) project around Bengaluru, which got cabinet approval a couple of days ago following a Supreme Court directive, continues to face hurdles with farmers unwilling to part with their land hoping for a better deal.

Tension prevailed at the Bengaluru Development Authority (BDA) premises on Friday as hundreds of farmers laid siege to the office. The meeting had been fixed, but when the chairman and commissioner did not turn up in time, the farmers started staging a protest and even attempted to block the road.

The police swung into action and eventually, BDA chairman and Yelahanka BJP MLA S R Vishwanath and commissioner Rajesh Gowda turned up and invited the farmers for the meeting. "We are not ready to give up our land for the project as per the old rates, and we want market price," said Raghu, a farmer whose two acres of land at Huskuru has been notified. The BDA had notified 1,800 acres of land in 2007 and now, it has to issue another notification to acquire 750 acres more.

"Will the BDA fix the old rates for the land to be acquired or fix it afresh," the farmers wanted to know besides wanting market price even for lands notified earlier.

Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha leader Kodihalli Chandrashekar advocated the farmers' interest and insisted on market price for their lands. The chairman and the commissioner promised to negotiate the price and convene another meeting on February 28.

The mega project is estimated to cost over Rs 21,000 crore with Rs 5,000 alone required for the land acquisition as per the old rates. But if the market price is considered, the cost will shoot up to Rs 31,000 crore. This is for the 1,800 acres of land notified. If over 700 acres more are acquired, the cost will go up again, sources said.

6.14 lakh watch hearing live

BENGALURU: More than 6.14 lakh people tuned into the YouTube channel of the Karnataka High Court to watch the live-streaming of proceedings in the hijab case on Friday. As many as 40,000 people watched the proceedings on Thursday, which are being held both in virtual and physical mode. A three-judge bench of Chief Justice Ritu Raj Awasthi and Justices Krishna S Dixit and JM Khazi heard the petitions challenging the insistence of certain educational institutions that no girl student will be allowed to wear the hijab inside classrooms. In some of the petitions, Muslim girl students have questioned the Government Order of February 5, issued under Sections 7 and 133 of the Karnataka Education Act, 1983. The order directs the College Development Committees to prescribe a 'student uniform', presumably in terms of Rule 11 of the Karnataka Educational Institutions (Classification, Regulation and Prescription of Curricula, etc.) Rules, 1995.

No role in hijab row, says SDPI

Leaders of the Social Democratic Party of India (SDPI) on Friday dismissed allegations that they are responsible for raking up the hijab controversy to polarise voters. "We have no role in the controversy," SDPI Udupi district president Nazeer Ahmed told reporters here. The party strives to work for the welfare of the poor, downtrodden, backward class, minorities and other oppressed communities, he added. "We are not a party of a specific religion. The SDPI won three seats in a civic poll in Kaup and this made many, including Udupi MLA Raghupathi Bhat, apprehensive about our ability and future prospects. The SDPI is not just getting votes of Muslims, but has a support base in all communities," he claimed.

'Pained by closure of schools'

THE three-judge bench passed the interim order as indicated towards the end of hearing on Thursday evening, while taking up a batch of petitions filed by students from Udupi district questioning the uniform prescribed by the state government on February 5, 2022.

"Firstly, we are pained by the ongoing agitations and closure of educational institutions for the past few days, especially when this court is seized off this matter and important issues of constitutional significance and of personal law are being seriously debated," the court noted after hearing the arguments of senior counsels Sanjay Hegade and Devadatt Kamat, representing petitioners, and Advocate General Prabhuling Navadagi.

Noting that these matters involved questions of enormous public importance and constitutional significance, the full bench said it will take up further hearing at 2.30 pm on Monday.

Don't communalise campuses: Kharge

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

OPPOSITION leader in the Rajya Sabha, Mallikarjun Kharge, on Friday said that final exams for students are round the corner and this unrest on campuses shows that "some elements in the BJP" are not concerned about the education and future of students. Rather, they want to make use of students for their political ends," he remarked.

Kharge, who has held the education portfolio earlier, said stoking communal passions on campuses during examination time is the most irresponsible act and is detrimental to the future of children. The government is encouraging communalisation of campuses and is hell bent on destroying the children's future. The government, through the district administration and school management committees, should work hard to put an end to this. It is the duty of the local district and education authorities to douse the flames of 'communalism' on education campuses, he stressed.

"Campuses are places for study and academic pursuits and let us keep it that way. Any attempt to communalise campuses is doing a disservice to students who are our future," he told TNIE. "We need to remember that Karnataka is a progressive state and yet the literacy levels among girl students from the minority, Dalit and backward communities have not not been as high as expected. Trouble on campuses should not further affect literacy levels among the downtrodden groups," he pointed out.

He said there are Constitutional safeguards to permit a person to practice one's religion freely without fear and added that vested interests should be kept away from vitiating the campus atmosphere. At a press conference earlier, he had stated that certain vested interests were behind the hijab unrest.

Union Minister of State A Narayanaswamy holds a review meeting in Bengaluru

Minister for spl courts to hear dalit atrocity cases

ENS @ Bengaluru

UNION Minister of State for Social Justice A Narayanaswamy has suggested that the government set up special courts to conduct trials in connection with atrocities on Dalits as the rate of conviction is a mere 3 per cent. "Despite chargesheet being filed by the police, over 6,000 cases are pending for disposal," he said after holding a review meeting with Chief Secretary P Ravikumar and officials of the Social Welfare Department here on Friday.

The minister informed the meeting that the Centre has granted Rs 6,392 crore for various welfare schemes in 16 departments of which Rs 4,519 was released and Rs 3,984 already spent. About 57,000 SCs and STs have benefited under the 'Ganga Kalyana' scheme and the state has been asked to send a fresh proposal for more grants as there are more beneficiaries, he said.

Regarding post-metric scholarships for students, he noted that a majority of them had not applied on the portal under Direct Beneficiary Transfer (DBT) scheme due to technical snags, and instructed authorities to take care of this.

Hindutva organisations behind violence: Forum

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BAHUTVA Karnataka, a coalition of progressive groups and individuals, has alleged that the perpetrators of violence in connection with the Hijab controversy are members of Hindutva organisations with allegiance to the RSS.

Addressing a press conference on Friday, forum members said their visits to some of the places where communal violence took place revealed this.

"The perpetrators of violence are members of Hindutva organisations such as Bajrang Dal, Hindu Jagarana Vedike, Sri Ram Sene and Sri Ram Sene Hindustan, which are known to have allegiance with the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS). In many cases, Hindutva groups have interfered in love relationships and friendships and attempted to enforce social segregation. The statewide incidents of students wearing saffron shawls and saffron turbans in colleges appear to be coordinated, with evidence emerging of Hindutva organisations coaxing, exhorting and even threatening youth," a press release issued by the forum stated.

The members said the educational institutions have, unfortunately, become the latest centres of violence, with Muslim women's right to observe their religious practice of wearing a hijab suddenly facing violent opposition. "These events are tearing apart the multicultural and syncretic fabric of Karnataka," they said.

The forum has demanded the government restore the rightful place of all enrolled students in their classrooms without discrimination and as per the constitution while ensuring protection to Muslim students, who have been allegedly targeted in the recent hate campaigns.

Siddu hits out at BJP

Mysuru: Opposition Leader in the Assembly Siddaramaiah on Friday hit out at the BJP government in the state, blaming it for poor fiscal management leading to increase in debts in the past three years. The Congress leader said there are no high expectations in the forthcoming state budget as Karnataka has been pushed into a vortex of debts with borrowings of Rs 4.57 lakh crore. "The debts that were Rs 2.15 lakh crore have doubled in the past three years. But the government claims to have done better when the committed expenditure has crossed 102 per cent. This was less than 80 per cent during my tenure," Siddaramaiah said. ENS

Getting funds for MGNREGA, Jal Jeevan Mission on track: KSE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

RURAL Development and Panchayat Raj (RDPR) Minister KS Eshwarappa on Friday said the state is getting funds required for the implementation of the Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act (MGNREGA) and the reduction in the allocation of funds for the project in the Union budget will not have any impact on the works in the state.

Speaking to media persons, the minister said the department is getting adequate funds from the Centre and the state for all its projects, including MGNREGA and Jal Jeevan Mission. "There is no problem at all and the Centre is releasing funds for all our projects as an when we request them," he said.

The Opposition Congress had hit out at the Centre for cutting allocation for MGNREGA by 25 per cent in the budget and had expressed concern over the implementation of the scheme.

The minister said after the state completed the target of 13 crore man-days of work by December 2021, the Centre released an additional Rs 715 crore to increase it by another 1.40 crore guaranteed man-days of work.

Eshwarappa said the Centre has appreciated the state's performance in the implementation of Jal Jeevan Mission, the project to provide tap water to rural households. "We have now reached the national average of 46 per cent and within a month we will do better than the national average," he said.

The state cabinet on Wednesday approved 16 projects to provide water to 6,17,607 households in 6,357 villages, the minister said and added that they will achieve the target of providing tap water to 97.91 lakh households by 2023-24.

In view of the current Covid-19 situation, the Karnataka government has scrapped the mandate of possessing an RT-PCR negative report for those arriving from Maharashtra. This includes those coming by air, train, road or personal vehicles. However, they must produce a full dose vaccination certificate.

Over 50 pc decrease in Covid-19 hospitalisations

More beds now being allocated to non-Covid cases in govt hospitals

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

IN a span of two weeks, between January 27 and February 10, the number of hospitalised Covid-19 patients in Karnataka has dropped by more than half (53.60 per cent). There were 5,664 Covid-19 patients admitted in government and private hospitals on January 27. This dropped to 2,628 admissions on February 10, as new positive cases continued to decline.

Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike data alone shows that the number of hospitalised patients in both government and private hospitals was at 1,934 on February 1, which reduced to 983 on February 10, registering a 49.17 percent decrease.

Presently, at KC General Hospital, there are only 17 Covid-19 patients (13 in HDU and 4 in ICU). This is a reduction by almost half in comparison to the 30-40 people admitted there before. For the past four to five days, the admissions have dropped to less than 20.

"As the government has also ordered us to reduce the number of Covid-19 beds and increase the number of non-Covid beds, we will be reducing 40 beds from the Covid-19 section. From the start of the pandemic, we have been providing both Covid-19 and non-Covid services.

As per the changing situation, the allocated bed strength has always been modified. About 15 days ago, when the corona cases were high, we had increased the number of beds," said Dr B R Venkateshaiah, Medical Superintendent of KC General Hospital.

At CV Raman General Hospital, there are only two patients admitted .

"One patient is in the ICU and another in the general ward. We restarted non-Covid services on Tuesday and expect more admissions for the same, next week," said Dr Radhakrishna, Medical Superintendent of the hospital.

While more general ward patients are admitted in private hospitals than government hospitals, there are more patients in public health facilities requiring oxygen/HDU beds, ICU beds and ICU with ventilator beds. Overall, admissions are higher.

KCR TOUGHENS STAND AGAINST UNION GOVT

Asks PM to be careful as voters will topple him

Telangana CM K Chandrasekhar Rao waving to the crowd at a public meeting in Jangaon | EXPRESS

FURTHER hardening his stand against the BJP-led Union government, Chief Minister and TRS president K Chandrasekhar Rao on Friday warned Prime Minister Narendra Modi that if he is not careful, he would be chased away from the country "Jagrattha Modi. Telangana puli bidda. Delhi kotanu baddalu kodatam. Desam nuchi tarimestam" (Be careful Modi. Telangana is courageous. We will demolish the Delhi fort and chase you away from the country), thundered the TRS supremo.

Addressing a mammoth public meeting in Jangaon after inaugurating the district party office, the Chief Minister said that the TRS would topple the BJP and bring a government at the Centre that is supportive of Telangana.

"If necessary, we will play a key role at the national politics," he said, asking the gathering whether the TRS should play a key role at the Centre or not. With the answer being a thunderous "Yes!", Rao warned Modi: "We will not be cowed down by your threats. Be careful Modi!"

The focal point of Rao's speech was an all-out attack on Modi, politically and administratively. "The Modi government promised to double the income of farmers, but all it did was double the investment costs," the CM said, adding that the BJP government did not care about the welfare of farmers and the poor.

He continued: "Modi government provided air tickets and sent those involved scams worth crores of rupees, like Vijay Mallya and Nirav Modi, abroad for a picnic. Then he asks us to fix meters to agriculture motors. We will not do it. We will revolt against you. If necessary we will go to Delhi and fight with the Centre," Rao declared.

35 bonded labourers rescued in Vijayapura dist

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Vijayapura

AS many as 15 families hailing from Palanga village of Bhainsdehi taluk in Madhya Pradesh's Betul district were rescued from bonded labour at Gubbewad village near Indi town on Thursday night. They were employed by a contractor to harvest sugarcane.

The rescue operation was carried out by a police team led by Deputy Superintendent of Police (DySP) of Indi sub-division Shreedhar D.

As many as 35 labourers from the 15 families have been residing residing in poor conditions in temporary tents without proper facilities for health, food, shelter and toilet for the last three months.

Of the rescued, 22 are men, 13 are women and 10 are children. The police have arrested Sharanappa Kavali, a middleman, for employing the labourers.

According to Police, "Sharanappa had arranged for transport of the employees from Madhya Pradesh to Indi and had made an initial payment of Rs 40,000 per family, as wages, for sugarcane harvesting in Gubbewada. He has failed to provide basic facilities to the families and also delayed in paying the remaining agreed wages," police said.

The labourers then alerted the deputy commissioner of Betul, who contacted the Inspector General of Police of Belagavi (Northern Range).

"The middleman has violated all labour laws. He has failed to provide basic facilities. We have sent them back to their native," DySp Shreedhar told TNIE.

A case has been registered in Indi Police Station.

The rescued labourers were living under poor conditions for the last 3 months

BELAGAVI ADMIN TRIED TO BURY CASES: REPORT

Bengaluru: A few days after Bonded Labour System Abolition Day was observed, a fact-finding team released a report on two cases of alleged bonded labour in Nippani and Ramdurg in Belagavi. Though authorities refuse to recognise them as bonded labour cases, the workers were bonded labourers as defined in the Bonded Labour Systems (Abolition) Act, 1976, the report read. The fact-finding mission, undertaken by the People's Union for Civil Liberties – Karnataka, the All India Lawyers' Association for Justice and the All India Students' Association, allege that the incidents were also cases of child, human and labour rights violations. On January 27, nine children, forced to work in sugarcane fields, were freed. The report claims 20 workers, including the children, were hired by contractors on false pretences. The report pointed out that authorities did not take up the issue as a case of bonded labour on the grounds that the workers had not been physically restrained. ENS

Covid woes: He wants to sell his buses for ₹45/kg

RAJESH ABRAHAM & SHIBU B S @Kochi

'TOURIST buses for sale -- Rs 45/kg'. The message by a Kochi-based tourist bus operator to sell his buses for scrap, and shared by the Contract Carriage Operators Association Kerala, the leading association of tourist bus owners, on its Facebook page on Friday, has brought to the fore the near-death situation faced by the tourist bus industry in the state of Kerala.

Royson Joseph, the owner of Roy Tourism, who put up the post, said he sold 10 out of his 20 tourist buses in the last 12-18 months as the travel restrictions that followed the pandemic has brought the tourist bus operators to their knees. In the last four days of this week, only three tourist buses got a trip to Munnar. "Normally in February, the roads to Munnar are chocked with heavy traffic. Now, the entire stretch is deserted," he said.

Royson has sold 10 buses at distress rates in recent months, just to repay the loans. "I'm ready to sell my buses to anyone who pays me Rs 45/kg. The situation is really bad; many of the tourist bus operators are on the verge of suicide," he said.

Royson Joseph, owner of Roy Tourism

Binu John, state president of CCOA, reckoned that the number of tourist buses in Kerala has come down from 14,000 to less than 12,000 as money lenders took away some buses following default on payments by the operators. "In the last two months alone, over 1,000 buses have been attached by the banks or money lenders," he said. "The exact number of buses will be known only after March, but we fear another 2,000-3000 tourist buses will be attached by banks and money lenders," said Binu.

The ever-changing Covid travel rules in the state are being cited as the biggest problem. "There will be package tours for 8-10 days where we pick tourists from Kochi airport and drop them at Thiruvananthapuram airport after visits to tourist locations. But, then suddenly the government announces Sunday lockdown, and we were charged Rs 2,000 penalty for operating on Sunday," lamented Royson.

'Simpler approach to learning must'

FURTHER, Gitanjali Rao said schools need to be geared up towards problem-based learning. "We've forgotten the real purpose of schools, which is to prepare us for real life. Everyone is so caught up in scoring good marks, preparing for exams, but we need a more simplistic approach to learning and thinking," she said, giving the example of her computer technician class exam in high school. "It wasn't a written exam, I was supposed to take apart a laptop and put it together and I was awarded marks based on that," she said, adding that children need an environment that fosters and encourages growth, and has less emphasis on stigmatising failure.

'Corporate coffee growers will take advantage of high price'

"ARABICA variety makes up for just 10 per cent of the coffee grown in Kodagu now. Many growers have shifted from the Arabica variety as crops were affected by stem borer and other diseases. The maintenance of the crop too is high. It is ironic that when growers here have abandoned the crop, Arabica prices have hit Rs 15,000 to Rs 16,200 for a 50 kg bag," rued Dr Kaverappa, the former vice-president of Coffee Board.

The prices of Robusta have been hovering around Rs 4,100 for cherry and Rs 7,600 for parchment. "The Robusta cherry price had gone up to Rs 4,500 two months ago. It has dipped as there is sufficient yield now and the coffee picking of Robusta has almost ended. Over 70 per cent of Robusta produce from Kodagu district is exported to European countries and the prediction is that the price would go up in July," he added.

But grower Harish Madappa said, "But small growers won't benefit from this July price rise as they are forced to sell all their produce immediately. They have to pay labourers and look after other expenses. Corporate growers will take advantage of high prices as they have the capacity to store the yield. Also, coffee traders will make money."

IIPMB seminar on plantations, carbon footprints

ENS@ Bengaluru

Indian Institute of Plantation Management Bengaluru (IIPMB) in association with UPASI and ITA organised a seminar on "Carbon Footprints for Agri-Plantation (AP) Companies: Exploring their Marketability to Manage the Bottom-Line" to create awareness on carbon sequestration potential of agri-plantation industry and monetisation of carbon credits.

The event was virtually attended by 250 stakeholders of tea, coffee, spices, rubber, tobacco, bamboo, cocoa and other agri-plantation sectors. Prof VG Dhanakumar, Director, IIPMB, said IIPM will develop a white paper on carbon market potential for the agri-plantation sector for submission to the Ministry of New and Renewable Energy. MP Cherian, President-UPASI, highlighted the need for policy support to the plantation industry for trading sequestered carbon.

BAN ON CENTURY-OLD ANDHRA PLAY MAY OPEN A PANDORA'S BOX

The hijab controversy may have hit the headlines, but in Andhra Pradesh, a ban on the exhibition of a century-old play by the Jagan Mohan Reddy government hasn't garnered the attention it deserves. Chintamani, penned by Kaallakuri Narayana Rao in 1920, has been outlawed based on a representation by a community that it depicts them in a poor light. The same is under judicial review.

There can be instances where censorship, however anathema it is, becomes inevitable. Chintamani definitely doesn't fall into any such category. It is both a morality play and a cautionary tale, and an immensely popular one at that. It was written against the evils of prostitution and explains how the main protagonists—Chintamani and Bilvamangala—attain salvation by conquering themselves. Reading it is in fact an ennobling experience. Objections have been raised against the character of Subbi Shetti, a merchant who loses his all due to his infatuation with Chintamani. The character offers comic relief but deviating from the original, over the years, it has been degraded in the name of artistic liberty for cheap entertainment. The artistes themselves admit that. However, should it be reason enough to ban the play altogether? Drawing a parallel, by this logic, one could seek a ban on The Merchant of Venice by Shakespeare! The play has to be looked at from a sociological perspective reflective of the times and depriving people of the benefit of this wonderful play is tantamount to blacking out our social history. It is also pertinent to note that the author exemplified the ideals he had advocated, marrying into a caste derisively referred to as one of prostitutes at the risk of excommunication.

As for the objections to the character of Subbi Shetti, we agree depraved depictions and distortions must be stopped. The government must see how it can do so since films have a censor board but not plays. Placing a blanket ban is violative of Article 19(1) (a) and Article 29(1) of the Constitution. Besides, it may open a Pandora's box with every other section seeking a review of literary works. Importantly, decisions of this sort may end up handing over to the judiciary what is essentially an executive power.

FIGHTING WITHIN IOA GETTING OUT OF HAND

The Commonwealth Games is just five months away, the Asian Games is seven months and the Indian Olympic Association is in a shambles. The two along with the Olympics are the three major events to which the IOA sends the names of athletes—not just to the organising nations but also to the sports ministry for approval. Besides players and coaches, the IOA also selects officials who would visit the Games under different capacities. It facilitates accreditation for visiting media too. With the fight between IOA president Narinder Batra and secretary Rajeev Mehta raging, there seems to be uncertainty at an inopportune moment. The athletes and coaches of course would be selected by the respective federations but for other officials and the media, there is no clarity. Especially after the latest fight when Batra invalidated the official email ID and IOA website on February 8, which Mehta claimed was illegal. At another level, this sparring over not sharing the email password seems at best juvenile.

What is more perturbing is Mehta's statement that there is no executive council because the tenure got over on December 14 when it finished four years in office and as per the IOA constitution, it has ceased to exist. This too would complicate matters. The IOA has not called for an annual general meeting or a special general meeting to extend the tenure of the executive council as of now. The matter pertaining to the election and revised constitution to align it with the Sports Code is still pending in the Delhi High Court. With the tussle between the president and secretary becoming bitter, things are expected to get worse. There is no sign of truce after a meeting before the AGM on December 19. With big-ticket events just a few months away, the IOA should get its house in order. At the same time, one hopes the court decides on the matter soon. Otherwise, the chaos has the potential to rip apart the current dispensation in the IOA, irrespective of whose side one is on. As of now it seems the situation is getting out of hand.

The construction of social identities was done to serve the British government's desire to create a single Hindu identity with a common law for easy governance

A BRIEF HISTORY OF CASTE IN INDIA AND THE BRITISH ROLE

NANDITHA KRISHNA

Historian, environmentalist and writer based in Chennai

SOUMYADIP SINHA

When I was in school we had no idea about our caste or that of our friends. I still don't. We grew up innocent of any sort of divisions and nobody discussed the subject.

Switch to 2009. I run several schools. We never asked the students their caste till, one day in 2009, the Director of School Education sent a letter saying that we must document every child's caste. So we sent out a letter to the parents. We immediately received a visit from two Scheduled Caste couples who said that they chose our school because we never asked the child's caste, so why are we doing it now? What can I say?

With five states going to the polls, all we hear about is the caste of each candidate and his caste strength. It is shocking that 75 years after Independence and increasing levels of education, we have not yet outgrown the caste system.

The early Rig Veda does not mention caste at all. The Purusha Sukta, a later interpolation, mentions the four varnas. But India has jatis, not varnas, and most jatis do not fit into the varna system. Valmiki, author of the Ramayana, was an Adi Kavi and thief by jati. In the Mahabharata, King Shantanu married a fisherwoman, Satyavati. Their child was Vyasa, the author of the epic, and their descendants were the Pandavas and Kauravas, Kshatriya rulers of Hastinapur. The Kshatriya King Kaushika became the Brahma rishi Viswamitra. Caste was flexible for a long time.

The definitions of religion and caste as we know them now were developed during the British period, in the 19th century, "by elevating texts like Manusmriti to canonical status", to quote Sanjoy Chakravorty. But few people follow the Manusmriti. During the first census of 1860, it was found impossible to fit the various jatis into the four varnas and W R Cornish, in charge of the census in Madras Presidency, wrote in 1871 that "regarding the origin of caste we can place no reliance upon statements made in the Hindu sacred writings. Whether there was ever a period in which the Hindus were composed of four castes is exceedingly doubtful".

According to anthropologist Susan Bayly of Cambridge University, "until well into the colonial period, much of the subcontinent was still populated by people for whom the formal distinctions of caste were of only limited importance, even in parts of the so-called Hindu heartland... The institutions and beliefs which are now often described as elements of the traditional caste (system) were only just taking shape as recently as the early 18th century."

Megasthenes divided the entire population of India into seven castes: philosophers; husbandmen; herdsmen and hunters; traders, artisans and day-labourers; warriors; overseers, inspectors and spies; and councillors and assessors. Megasthenes does not mention their inflexibility. Chandragupta Maurya, who belonged to the scheduled Maurya tribe of Bihar, was selected by Chanakya, a Brahmin, for his leadership qualities, not his caste.

Hiuen Tsang mentions four castes, but also adds that there were mixed castes, numerous castes formed according to their kinds, which cannot be described. Interestingly, the early Arabs also divided the population into seven castes.

The Guptas were Vaishyas who became Kshatriyas when they established their rule. Nobody knows the origin of the Pallavas, leave alone their caste. Harihara and Bukka were Kurubas who claimed Yadava lineage. They were converted to Islam by Muhammad bin Tughlaq and were reconverted to Hinduism by Vedaranya, Shankaracharya of Sringeri, and then crowned as Kshatriyas and rulers of Vijayanagara by the same orthodox muth. Hemu, in the 16th century, was a seller of saltpetre who became the ruler of Delhi and assumed the title of Vikramaditya, till he was killed and beheaded by Akbar's regent Bairam Khan. Shivaji was a Maratha who was crowned Kshatriya when he created the Maratha empire. Each South Indian dynasty belonged to a different caste but the king was always crowned as Kshatriya.

> The definitions of religion and caste as we know them now were developed during the British period, in the 19th century.... A complex, diverse and flexible society was reduced to a single identity, separated by castes, a part of the British government's divide-and-rule policy

Ramanujacharya, the 11th century Vaishnava philosopher, absorbed people of every caste, including the so-called "untouchables" and downtrodden, into his Sri Vaishnava bhakti movement and gave all of them the sacred thread, converting them to Brahmanism. Many North Indian communities who moved south during the Muslim invasions, like the Saurashtrians or Pattunool weavers of Madurai, are called Brahmins.

Pre-colonial accounts of travellers make little or no mention of caste. The construction of social identities was done to serve the British government's desire to create a single Hindu identity with a common law for easy governance. Thus a complex, diverse and flexible society was reduced to a single identity, separated by "castes", a part of the British government's divide-and-rule policy.

Caste has permeated into Islam and Christianity. I once went to the funeral of a Christian friend in a Chennai church. The priest came and asked me my caste. I said that I was not a Christian but would like to attend the funeral service. He said that I must sit in the pew meant for my caste. What does my caste have to do with death and mourning? In many villages, Scheduled Castes have to sit outside the church. Similarly, Darzis, Dhobis and Bhangis are much lower than Syeds and Sheikhs in the Muslim caste hierarchy and the various castes do not intermarry.

The status of the downtrodden was always bad, and no caste can claim that they treated the Scheduled Castes well. When we began to restore a sacred grove that belonged to a scheduled community in the deep south of Tamil Nadu, the local OBCs burnt it down one night, saying that a forest would encourage the SCs to go in and pray in the local temple. In many villages, we have been asked to choose to work with either the SCs or OBCs, not both. Our village service is very simple: planting trees and medicinal plants and skill development for local women. Even such innocuous activities bring out the ire of other castes. Does a tree have a caste? The tribals are the poorest of the poor and are deprived of their traditional land rights and have no status. With no skills, they suffer the most.

This election has been so full of caste that I fear for the future of my India. Urbanisation—where people live side-by-side with no idea of their neighbour's caste—has improved the situation in the cities, but India lives in its villages. That is where a Scheduled Caste person is still attacked for walking through the main street of the village. When will we treat them as human beings?

AWARENESS OF SEXUAL, REPRODUCTIVE HEALTH RIGHTS

DR VANDANA SHETTY
Consultant Psychiatrist

DR DEBANJAN BANERJEE
Consultant Geriatric Psychiatrist

Sexual and reproductive health rights are rooted in basic human rights. This concurs with the definition of the United Nations Commission on Human Rights and is supported through multiple international treaties. Sexual health as defined by the WHO is "a state of physical, mental and social well-being in relation to sexuality. It requires a positive and respectful approach to sexuality and sexual relationships, as well as the possibility of having safe and pleasurable sexual experiences, free of coercion, discrimination and violence".

The WHO also defines reproductive rights as "the basic right of all couples and individuals to decide freely and responsibly the number, spacing and timing of their children and to have the information and means to do so..."

Despite being internationally recognised as a basic human right time and again, there is a general lack of awareness and sensitivity to the effective implementation of these rights both at individual and administrative levels. This leads to an increase in inequality and discrimination. Political will and national awareness are imperative to successful implementation. The usual stigma and hush-hush about topics related to sexuality prevent a healthy dialogue on these rights.

What are these rights? The key principles of sexual and reproductive health rights are dignity, autonomy, bodily integrity, and well-being. It also includes elements such as liberty, freedom from torture and coercion, access to information and sex education, access to healthcare services, safe sexual practices, protection from sexual or gender-based violence. Prevention and early diagnosis of HIV and other sexually transmitted diseases are other important aspects.

Sexual and reproductive health rights intersect to some extent, particularly in relation to information and services related to sex education, contraception, abortion and sexually transmitted diseases. However, sexual well-being encompasses a much wider domain that is not limited to disease prevention and treatment, but includes autonomy and pleasure related to sexuality.

February 12th is internationally marked as Sexual and Reproductive Health Awareness Day. Let us look at what it really means. And how are the rights violated?

Violations of sexual and reproductive health rights are frequent and stem from a lack of awareness and implementation. The most vulnerable populations include women, adolescents and people with non-normative sexual orientations or gender identities (eg. LGBTQIA+ population). The vulnerability to violence increases in the presence of disabilities, marital status, conflict situations and low socio-economic status. Some examples of violations include discrimination based on gender and sexual identity, denial of access to health services, female infanticide, child marriage, domestic violence including sexual violence and marital rape. The pandemic has further aggravated the inequalities in access to sexual and reproductive health services. There has been a steep rise in cases of intimate partner violence and sexual violence globally since 2020. The UN has labelled this as a "shadow pandemic" and even launched a public awareness campaign to battle the worsening gender inequality and domestic violence in the wake of the Covid crisis.

> Training of teachers and healthcare workers dealing with gender concerns and sexuality, especially regarding marginalised groups, is vital to improve accessibility to services as well as enhance knowledge

What is the way forward? Comprehensive sexuality education introduced at the school level, which encompasses all issues including but not limited to gender roles, gender identities, sexual orientation, positive and negative sexual contact, and disease prevention, to name a few, will enable young children to become more aware of their bodies, personal hygiene, gender identity as well as safe sexual practices. The existing sexual education curriculum within schools is limited to biological functions and does not take all the above factors into consideration.

Training of teachers and healthcare workers dealing with gender and sexuality concerns to sensitise them regarding cultural facets of sexuality, especially regarding marginalised groups, is vital to improve accessibility to services as well as enhance knowledge.

Creating easier pathways to access sexual and reproductive healthcare services that are free of stigma is especially important for population groups such as adolescents, gender non-conforming/LGBT individuals and commercial sex workers. This will help reduce the abuse and violence against them as well as keep them integrated within the health services.

Sexual and reproductive rights intersect with social and cultural rights, therefore multi-dimensional will and action is crucial to highlight these issues. This would include administrative and political goodwill to ensure that this fundamental right is upheld at all levels. India is a signatory to all major human rights conventions and thus it is our collective responsibility to work towards reproductive health rights as well.

The National Human Rights Commission (NHRC) undertook a national inquiry on the status of sexual and reproductive health in India and published its report in 2018. It was noted that even though there are multiple legislations in place, these are not sufficient to address the issues at the ground level as there are huge gaps in implementation. To address these, public-private partnerships that include key stakeholders should be encouraged with the active role of media.

It is crucial to integrate sexual health services into the existing public health infrastructure and national health programmes to ensure that they are available, accessible, acceptable and of good quality, and match international human rights standards.

Sexuality is not a taboo, but a vital aspect of health and living. There has to be a shift to a rights-based approach that truly allows enjoyment of equal, inclusive and non-discriminatory sexual and reproductive choices.

Kerala should learn

While everyone appreciates the well-coordinated rescue work in Palakkad and are happy over the outcome, the Kerala government should realise its inefficiency in managing a disaster like this. As the paper points out, the operation could have ended at least 24 hours earlier provided there had been a well-equipped team of rescuers there (Operation Palakkad & its lessons for Kerala, Feb 11). One only hopes that this serves as an eye-opener for the Kerala government.

Stick to uniforms

Sticking to the good old school uniforms shows oneness (Interim HC order to have a calming effect on student community, Feb 11). If instead, students in a school turn up divided into saffron shawls and hijabs, we can only blame our failure in inculcating values of true secularism in them all these years. For that matter, does any party want true secularism?

P Mangalachandran, Kannur

Don't bring religion into it

One way out of the hijab-uniform row is to keep the face fully uncovered while wearing it. The issue is a matter of custom. Religious slogans should not be brought into this.

Fitting honour

It is gratifying to note that the Union government has decided to release a commemorative stamp in memory of Lata Mangeshkar on her birth anniversary in September. It will be a fitting honour to the legendary singer, who enthralled generations of music lovers all over the world with her mesmerising voice.

R Sivakumar, Chennai

Selfless services rendered

This is with reference to Rogues can be dressed as priests (Feb 6). The author could have perhaps stopped with his comments on the exoneration of Bishop Franco Mulakkal, which appears to be surrounded by many ifs and buts. But the criticism of the Church over conversions is unwarranted. It should not be forgotten that Christian missionaries are primarily known for their selfless services to the poor and the downtrodden. A large section of the people of our country would have remained uneducated and sick but for the yeomen services rendered by the missionaries.

Country finds its voice

This is with reference to India enters the Modi era in global politics (Feb 9). It's heartening to learn that such concerns are being raised on international platforms. Thanks for highlighting this issue as many citizens are concerned about the image of our country in the international community.

NEW DELHI: The poll panel has warned the Uttarakhand BJP for allegedly tweeting a morphed image of Congress leader Harish Rawat. It said the reply filed by the party over the matter was unsatisfactory. The Congress had accused the BJP of tweeting, on February 3, a morphed image of Rawat, wherein he was falsely depicted as belonging to a particular community.

Yearning for change in Punjab's battleground region

Fed up with mainstream players Congress, Akali Dal & BJP over unemployment and drug menace, voters in Malwa region look for alternatives

Ear to the Ground
PUNJAB POLLS

H KHOGEN SINGH
@ Mansa/Muktsar/Bathinda (Punjab)

GURJINDER Singh, 20, a student of Nehru Memorial Government College in Mansa town, alights from a bus on a state highway in Nangalkhurd village and straight away orders tea at a grubby, makeshift stall even as cacophonic traffic races past.

"I will be voting for the first time but badlav chahiye (we want change)," said Gurjinder, sporting a style statement of closely cropped hair, trimmed beard and twirled moustache that is ubiquitous among the youth in this region.

Laxman Jakhar, the tea seller, claimed Gurjinder was only voicing the view of a majority in these parts. "People are fed up of established parties, for 70 years they have done nothing so the public wants to give a new party a chance," he said, his broken cycle cart a ponderous figure but a prized possession. The reference to the "established parties" is the Congress, Shiromani Akali Dal and the BJP.

The badlav chahiye sentiment is almost all-pervasive, at least in the rural parts of Punjab's Malwa region that has 69 of the 117 seats in the assembly. The yearning for change is a little muted in the urban centres. "There is unemployment, drug problem, corruption and no development," said Kuldeep Singh, 34, a street vendor in Dhaula village, Barnala. "This is because of years of misrule," he said as heavy beats from a popular Punjabi song played from his mobile phone in metronomic cadence.

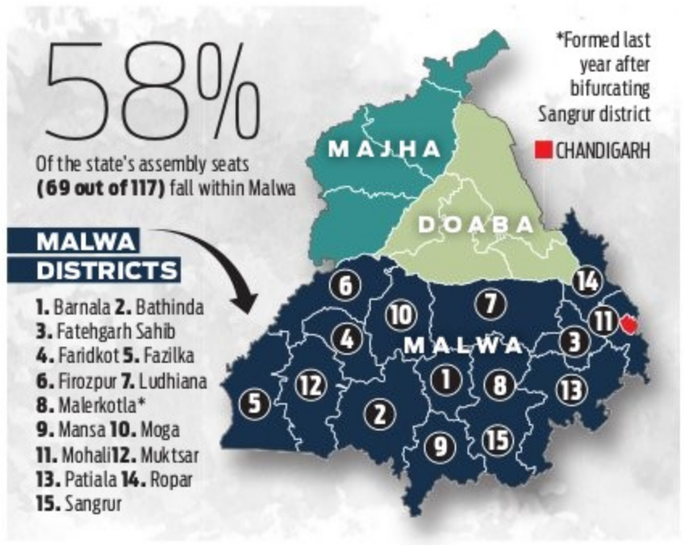
In Malout, Muktsar district, Surinder Singh, 30, holds a tea cup in his greasy palm. A combine harvester mechanic from Lambi, Bathinda, the constituency of Akali patriarch Parkash Singh Badal, Surinder said he was forced to drop out of school to earn money.

"Go to schools and colleges and you will find them empty, there are no students, like me they have dropped out," he claimed. "People want a government that can provide good education and jobs," he said.

The badlav chahiye chorus appears to be driven partly by the growing unemployment and the drug problem, with the former fueling the latter.

"When the youth don't get jobs they get into depression and then they do drugs," said Gurnandeep Singh, 32, a farmer in Lambi.

According to the Centre for Monitoring Indian Economy's latest unemployment report, over eight lakh people are unemployed in Punjab, with a big chunk constituting graduates.



The report said over 16% of the workforce with graduate degrees and higher educational qualifications were jobless.

The unemployment-cum-drug problem is driving many to send their children abroad for higher studies, never to return. "I took a loan to send both my sons to Canada, it is better they are there, here they will not find jobs and they will get into drugs," said Tejpal Singh, 54, a shopkeeper in Malout.

Echoing Tejpal was Karandeep Kaur, 49, an acting principal at the Government Senior Secondary School, Ghuman Kalan, Bathinda. "The drug problem is eating into our society. I have only one son and I have sent him to Canada. Whenever our children here leave home their parents pray that they return safely," said Karandeep, her eyes welling up.

Almost all blame successive Congress and Akali-BJP governments for the mess, and that is why the longing for badlav. "If the government wants, it can stop the drugs in a day. No action is taken against drug sellers, only the users are caught and thrown into lockup," claimed Gurvinder Singh, 36, a six foot four inch farmer with a guttural voice in Kot Shamir village, Bathinda.

To escape the drug and unemployment traps, many rural youth queue up at Bathinda's numerous English teaching private academies to sharpen their language skills and clear the International English Language Testing System to go abroad.

"Most of our students are from the rural areas and the number of enrolment is increasing every year," said Arti Kaushal, an IELTS coordinator at Sky Bridge Academy in the heart of Bathinda.

Figures presented in the Lok Sabha by minister of state for foreign affairs V Muraleedharan said between January 2016 and March 2021, 4.78 lakh people left Punjab for employment of which 2.62 lakh were students.

The desire for change has created a buzz around the Aam Aadmi Party, with the party also successfully creating a perception that it can do wonders.

"They formed the government in Delhi three consecutive times, they must have done some good work that is why the people trusted them," said Lekh Ram, 47, a dhaba owner in Abohar.

Prompted by the noise around the AAP, party chief Arvind Kejriwal has descended on the state, a bandolier of freebies slung on his shoulders. But there are doubts if the party can win the elections.

"Yes people are looking for a change, but any vote for change is surrounded by a lot of noise, it may not necessarily translate into votes," said Pramod Kumar, director of the Chandigarh-based think-tank Institute for Development and Communication.

BJP for aggressive fight in 3 dozen Punjab seats

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

WITH less than ten days left for the Assembly elections in Punjab, the BJP is planning aggressive campaigning, focusing on around three dozen seats out of the 73 it is contesting.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi will address rallies at Jalandhar (February 14), Pathankot (February 16) and Abohar (February 17), covering all three regions of the state.

Punjab BJP general secretary Subash Sharma claimed PM Modi's rallies will change the political atmosphere in the state and boost the confidence of all the BJP-PLC-SAD (S) alliance candidates.

After playing second fiddle to Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) for over two decades and now fighting the polls with new alliance partners, the saffron party is focusing on 35 seats which are primarily in the urban areas of the state and have large number of Hindu and Scheduled Caste (SC) voters. It is contesting 73 seats primarily for optics. Hindus comprise approximately 38 per cent of Punjab's population but are not a consolidated vote bank as their votes usually are divided among all parties. The party is banking on Hindu and SC votes besides the anti-incumbency faced by some of the sitting MLAs.

Malwa region: Khanna, Rajpura, Ludhiana (South), Ludhiana (East), Atamnagar, Ropar, Dera Bassi, Mansa, Bathinda (Urban), Sangrur, Abohar, Fazilka, Ferozepur (City)

"The constituencies that the BJP has identified have around 60 per cent Hindu population. The BJP state leadership has already told its district leaders to focus on these seats. BJP leaders are working with like-minded organisations to cement the party's chances on these seats,'" said a party leader on condition of anonymity.

The BJP already has the advantage of having fought on 23 of these seats when the party was in alliance with the SAD. The saffron party is now also concentrating on 12 other seats which it thinks might go in it's favour.

RAMPUR'S FIERCE BATTLE CENTRES AROUND ONE NAME

SANA SHAKIL @ Rampur (UP)

ONE of the most keenly anticipated contests in Uttar Pradesh is taking place in the Muslim-dominated seat of Rampur, where jailed Samajwadi Party leader Azam Khan is up against Congress' Kazim Ali Khan and BJP's Akash Saxena.

Azam Khan

Kazim Ali Khan

What lends an edge to this contest is how Kazim and Saxena are trying to corner the nine-time MLA, and arguably the tallest Muslim leader in the state, Azam Khan. In fact, as one travels around Rampur, it can be seen that all poll-related conversations are polarised around just one subject — Azam Khan.

Against him pitted is his old rival Kazim Ali Khan, son of the last Nawab of Rampur, whose parents won the Rampur Lok Sabha seat seven times on Congress ticket. The other contender, Saxena, also has a history with Azam, as his father, former BJP minister Shiv Bahadur Saxena, lost the Assembly polls from this seat to Azam Khan way back in 1989. Saxena, a lawyer, is responsible for more than half of the cases filed against the SP leader.

During his poll campaign 46-year-old Saxena boasts about filing 30 of the over 100 FIRs against the SP veteran while Kazim claims he is the one who is to be credited for exposing Azam.

"Saxena may have followed up on a few cases but people of Rampur know that I am the one who filed the very first complaint and exposed the many frauds and crimes of Azam Khan and his family," Kazim says. He adds that Azam Khan's "so-called development was only for himself".

According to retired government employee Ramesh Pandey, this election is about development and good law-and-order brought about by Yogi Adityanath versus Azam Khan's work in Rampur. "It is true that Azam Khan brought unparalleled development to Rampur but we have to think holistically this time," Pandey says.

Panwesi Lal, who works at a shoe shop, has a different view. "Rampur is way ahead in development compared to other places in UP so, Azam Khan has to be brought to power again."

Lal's co-worker Ashok Kumar agrees but says Azam Khan's absence from campaigning has made things difficult for the SP leader, so much so that he could lose his seat for the very first time. Lal doesn't let Kumar finish his argument and points to the e-rickshaw going past saying, "Doesn't matter that Azam Khan is in jail but people like those who got jobs through e-rickshaws are there to vouch for him."

Many in Rampur agreed with Lal's view. Fahim Khan, a lawyer in the city, said, "Azam Khan's absence will only bring more votes for Khan as his work is there for everyone to see."

SP ticket policy leaves leaders, allies sulking amid campaign

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

WITH the UP election already past the first phase, the Samajwadi Party, which has already announced over 300 candidates, is grappling with candidates returning tickets at one place or the other on a daily basis.

The simmering discontent among party workers is attributed to frequent changes in the constituencies of these candidates in the absence of a proper system for ticket distribution.

At a number of places, candidates were being replaced within 24 hours of being named from there. "Indecision and frequent changes in the names is leading to discontent not only among party leaders but also among ground-level workers who ensure the victory of party candidates," said a senior SP leader seeking anonymity.

Recently, the party faced a piquant situation in Malihabad, a reserved seat on the outskirts of Lucknow. Sushila Saroj, a senior SP leader was declared candidate but she returned the ticket saying she had not pitched for Malihabad. Consequently, the party had to replace Mohanlalganj candidate with Saroj.

At the same time, the rumblings between SP and its allies are also coming to the fore. Recently, the chinks in alliance had appeared when Apna Dal (Kamerawadi), led by Krishna Patel, had returned all the seats left for it by the SP. The party claimed that its vice-president Pallavi Patel was declared a candidate by the SP on its symbol. Apna Dal (K) complained that SP took the decision to field Pallavi without taking her party into confidence. However, later Akhilesh pitched in and convinced Pallavi to be a candidate on the same seat.

South Goa wants income avenues, not turncoats

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Panaji

SOUTH Goa is dominated by Catholic Christians. They want protection of agricultural land, trees and sanctuaries.

The region has 20 Assembly constituencies. In 2017, Congress had won a majority of them before almost all of them defected to BJP. Margo MLA and former CM Digambar Kamat was the only one not to leave the party. He is contesting from the same seat this year. Goa goes to polls on February 14.

William Barrister is a resident of Matolward village. The 43-year-old says that due to the widening of a National Highway, people were displaced. As a result, the 500 voters of his village got segregated. "Goa did not need such four-lane roads and bridges. Ours is a very small state. We have limited land that we want to protect and preserve. But the government here is constructing one big road or bridge after another. There should be strong laws to protect land and wildlife," said Barrister.

Deputy sarpanch of his village, Barrister added, "Goa is a peaceful and beautiful place with rivers and thick forest. The road has not only divided our village into two parts, families have also got separated families due to this so-called development. Even to meet relatives, we have to cross this road. Crossing it has become a troublesome exercise. Why should our children put their lives in danger just to cross a road? This highway has becomes an accident-prone spot. In the last two months, five accidents took place at this."

Last time, this constituency had elected Congress candidate Wilfred De Souza. "We campaigned for him and went door to door. After elections, in a few months, De Souza left Congress and joined BJP. Now, he is contesting as an Independent. He knows that if he contests on a BJP ticket, we will not vote for him. He thinks people are fools and will vote for him again," said Michael Mathew, a local.

Romeo Albuket, a resident of Cutorim in south Goa, used to work in a cruise ship. "I used to earn ₹50,000 per month, but since the outbreak of the pandemic, I am at home. I searched in vain for jobs in Goa. No one wants to pay more than ₹10,000 per month. Prices of fish, meat and oil have increased manyfold. The government is neither giving jobs nor allowances to unemployed youths."

Almada Fernandes, a resident of Margo, grows vegetables in her tiny land and sells them by the roadside. She says her income is not sufficient to meet the family's demands. "If there is no work on my farm, I go to construction sites. They pay only ₹400 or ₹500 per day for such heavy labour. The government should make a law so that these employers offer better pay. My kids are small and my husband does not work due to bad health," she said.

Cong has new vision for Goa: Dinesh Gundu Rao

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @ Panaji

DESPITE failing to form a government after emerging as the single-largest party in Goa after the last Assembly polls, the Congress is confident of coming to power in Goa this time around. While asserting that the Congress, without any doubt, will achieve a clear majority in Goa and form the next government, Dinesh Gundu Rao, Goa election in-charge of the Congress, has said a new-look party has been presented before the people ahead of the February 14 election. The party's new vision and ideology is attracting people, Gundu Rao claimed, and added that for the revival of Goa's tourism sector, economy and the worsening situation in other sectors, people feel that the Congress party is the only alternative.

According to him, "The party's campaign, manifesto, selection of candidates, etc., have impressed the people of Goa. Their opinion is against the ruling BJP in the backdrop of various scandals and scams that rocked the government, besides the failure of the BJP administration," he said.

Commenting on why the Congress was not keen on having an alliance of non-BJP parties in Goa, despite TMC proposing it, Gundu Rao said the TMC's objectives were not clear. "Firstly, the TMC came to Goa merely four months prior to the election and began poaching Congress legislators. Why should they poach our legislators if their objective was to have a tie-up with us? The TMC's agenda was destructive as it wanted to help the BJP by dividing non-BJP votes. But the non-BJP votes will not split as the people have lost confidence in TMC," he added. He said Congress this time has come out with a new vigour and did not include many of the leaders who defected to other parties earlier and are now keen to return to the Congress fold. All of them have been kept away and the party fielded 31 new faces which includes several youngsters, women and social workers. "We have presented a new Congress with a new vision, new ideology before the Goans," he added.

When asked what were the major issues in Goa ahead of the polls, he said, the current situation in Goa is miserable with the BJP government failing on all fronts. Besides the job scandals that rocked Goa, the situation is worsening on all fronts. The tourism industry has collapsed and unemployment has increased in the past few years, he said.

Panel critical of poor NREGS auditing

KUMAR VIKRAM @ New Delhi

WHILE there is provision for social audit of central schemes like MGNREGS, a few of them have been audited in the last few years. A parliamentary panel has taken strong note of this, saying only 29,611 gram panchayats were audited in the 2020-21 fiscal and it came down in 2021-22 with only 18,589 gram panchayats being audited so far out of total 2,68,981.

"Despite the provision and rules, the committee find to its utter dismay that the actual implementation of this provision is poor, and abysmally low figures of audit of gram panchayats come before the committee," said the panel in its report tabled recently in Parliament.

The report observed a very poor adherence to such an important mechanism of accounting of gram panchayats.

"The committee take a very strong view of this negligent and non-serious approach elicited by the agencies concerned and vehemently urge the Department of Rural Development to take up this matter in all earnest with a firm resolve and ensure that the gram panchayats do not go unaudited during the financial year," it said.

As per the rule, the gram sabha shall monitor the execution of works within the gram panchayat. The gram sabha shall conduct regular social audits of all the projects under the MGNREGS taken up within the gram panchayat.

Till November 2021, a total of 27 States and 1 UT (Jammu & Kashmir) have established Social Audit Unit (SAU) and are conducting audit which is to be conducted for all the works taken up under the MGNREGS at least once in six months.

The other aspect concerning with social audits that bewildered the committee was the absence of social audit reports for public.

Wilson targeted by two groups: Report

SHAHID FARIDI @New Delhi

ACTIVIST Rona Wilson, charged with terrorism and lodged in jail in Bhima Koregaon case, was targeted by hackers, including one called ModifiedElephant, whose activity "aligns with Indian state interests", The Washington Post said in a report citing investigations by a California-based cybersecurity firm.

Last year, cybersecurity experts had revealed that hackers planted incriminating evidence in Wilson's laptop.

Now, a year later, the American newspaper cites SentinelOne to say that Wilson was targeted by two separate groups, including one group "that has been linked to widely documented cyberespionage campaigns against... India's top foreign adversaries."

It further says that the other group, "responsible for planting documents on the activist's device, dubbed ModifiedElephant by SentinelOne, shared hacking infrastructure with an attacker that researchers have long suspected of being involved in state-sanctioned political espionage."

The Post says that the findings published by SentinelOne showed that a group of dissidents have been under surveillance for nearly a decade now. The findings also offer "new clues about the connections between groups that cybersecurity experts have observed targeting foreign adversaries and domestic critics."

The report, however, did not identify the people who carried out the attacks or the entity that ordered them but notes that "ModifiedElephant's activity aligns with Indian state interests".

Principal researcher and co-author of the SentinelOne report Juan Andres Guerrero-Saade said "two separate groups going after the same target suggests they were tasked with the job by the same entity," the daily said.

According to SentinelOne researchers, Wilson received dozens of emails that contained malware designed to infiltrate his computer.

The Washington Post had earlier reported that another forensic analysis found that years before his arrest, an unknown hacker compromised Wilson's computer and planted at least 32 documents, including a letter discussing a plot to assassinate the PM that authorities have cited as evidence.

Three independent experts reviewed the SentinelOne report at The Post's request and concurred with its conclusions.

Sitharaman's 'poverty of mind' swipe at Rahul

Fin min lashes out at Congress too, dubs the UPA rule as 'Rahu Kaal'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

FACING the Opposition's criticism for her budget, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Friday attacked Congress for calling the Centre's policy 'remote-controlled'.

She said the comment comes from a party where there is no democracy and policy decisions are made at 10 Janpath.

Attacking former Congress chief Rahul Gandhi without naming him, she said that none can forget that one general secretary of the party tore a Bill in public. "The respected Prime Minister Dr Manmohan Singh was going to meet the US President after two hours. Is that remote control or what is that?" asked Sitharaman.

On Rahul's remark in 2013 that poverty is a state of mind, she said, "Please be clear, is this the poverty that you wanted me to address, the poverty of mind?"

Her comments created an uproar in the House and Shiv Sena MP Priyanka Chaturvedi said the finance minister is mocking the poor.

In response, Sitharaman said the person who mocked the poor is in alliance with your party. "What is the poor that you are talking about? Your former (Congress) president said that poverty does not mean scarcity of food, money, or material things. If one possesses self-confidence, then one can overcome it. He said it's a state of mind. I've not named the person but we know who it is," she said.

Using a Tamil proverb, the minister said that she had not named anyone, but people started defending that person. "The Tamil proverb says that during rainy seasons, no one knows where the frog is, but you know where it is when it goes croak-croak."

On Congress MP Kapil Sibal's remark that 'India is not in Amrit Kaal but in Rahu Kaal since 2014', she said such comments should not come from them.

"Rahu Kaal was when an ordinance brought by the Prime Minister of their own party was torn in front of the media. Rahu Kaal is what produces G-23 and a situation where senior leaders leave the party. That is Rahu Kaal," she said in the Rajya Sabha.

> What is the poor that you are talking about? Your former president said the poverty does not mean scarcity of food, money or material things.... He said it's a state of mind.

Missing Dalit woman found buried near ashram of ex-SP minister's son

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Lucknow

TWO months after a 22-year-old Dalit woman went missing, the police exhumed her body from a septic tank near an ashram owned by the son of a former Samajwadi Party minister in Unnao district.

Rajol Singh, the son of former SP minister late Fateh Bahadur Singh, was arrested on January 24 in connection with the alleged abduction of the woman and was being interrogated, said police.

The victim was strangulated to death, the autopsy said, adding that her neck was broken. It added that she was assaulted and two head injuries were noticed. The local SHO, meanwhile, was suspended for alleged laxity in the probe.

On Thursday, a SWAT team had dug out the body which was found buried 4 ft under the ground. The district magistrate and the SSP of Unnao had met the family of the victim.

The victim's mother had attempted immolation in front of Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav's vehicle in Lucknow on January 25. She had alleged that the SP leader's son had abducted her daughter and had kept her captive.

Alleging laxity by SHO Akhilesh Chandra Pandey, the mother on Friday sought an appointment with Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath saying that she was not satisfied with the police probe. She suspects her daughter was violated before being silenced. "The officials said that she ran away from home and that she will return soon. The officials did not even let us meet the SP," she said.

Additional SP, Unnao, Shashi Shekhar Singh said the FIR was lodged on January 10 on the basis of the missing complaint filed on December 8. "Investigation is in progress. Based on the probe findings, the body was recovered. Further strictest action will be initiated against the culprit."

Meanwhile, Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP) chief Mayawati lashed out at the Samajwadi Party over the death of the woman. "The family had been suspecting the SP leader in the abduction and murder. The government should immediately take strict action against the culprits and get justice for the victim's family," she tweeted.

EXAM ROW

JPSC seeks nod to publish revised results

MUKESH RANJAN @Ranchi

THE Jharkhand Public Service Commission (JPSC) on Friday filed an Interlocutory Application (IA) in Jharkhand High Court, seeking permission to publish revised results of Civil Services (PT) Examination conducted earlier. The JPSC, which landed in a controversy after it disqualified 49 candidates who were earlier declared to have 'provisionally' cleared the 7th-10th Civil Services PT Examination, had postponed the Civil Services (Main) Examination till further orders.

During the hearing on the petition challenging the preliminary results, JPSC had on January 25 submitted that a decision had been taken to postpone the exam and declare fresh and rectified results three weeks after reviewing the grievances of the petitioner.

Apparently, the decision was taken in the wake of the order passed by the court on January 24, directing JPSC to inform whether any reservation was granted to the candidates appearing for the JPSC (Preliminary) Examinations held last year. The petitioner had pleaded that reservation was granted to students in the preliminary exams, despite the fact that it was not mentioned in the advertisement.

According to the IA filed by JPSC on Friday, the result has been prepared and has to be published so that sufficient time is given to the selected candidates to apply and prepare for the main examination. A new merit list of 4,883 candidates has been prepared, it said.

PANEL FINDINGS

'Locomotive of derailed train was not inspected'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kolkata

THE locomotive of the ill-fated Bikaner-Guwahati Express did not undergo trip inspection on prescribed schedule, the Commission of Railway Safety said in its findings which mentioned major negligence on the part of the national transporter.

''The locomotive was running continuously for about 18,000 km before the derailment. As per prescribed inspection schedule, the locomotive should have undergone trip inspection at every 4,500 km,'' said a railway official quoting the report.

Trip inspection is an important safety protocol in which undergear of the locomotive is inspected by trained railway officials to ensure safety and it is expected that railways have institutionalised system to monitor and ensure that it is done in time, it said.

The report also mentioned that Agra Fort (UP) and New Cooch Behar (Bengal) railway stations were allotted to undergo trip inspection but both of them have no facility for such examination. ''From the documents, it came to light that in one of the loco links issued by Samastipur Division, electric locos have been allotted to undergo trip inspection at NCB and AF. Both these locations have no facility for trip examinations,'' the report said. "How such ghost examination takes place is matter of investigation by rail authorities."

Investigation revealed dislocation of a traction motor, which generates power to the wheels of the locomotive, leading to the January 13 derailment of 12 coaches in Domohani area of West Bengal's Jalpaiguri district. Nine people were killed and 40 others were injured in the accident. There were over 1,000 passengers on board in the train.

Incidentally, Railway minister Ashwini Vaishnaw, who visited the derailment site, had said a mechanical glitch in the locomotive might have triggered the derailment.

In its report, the Commission suggested that inspection of locomotives be ensured by the Railway authorities and that the designated stations for trip inspections have the requisite facilities to carry out the process.

Traditional dress once a week for Arunachal school students

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

AT a time when the debate surrounding the hijab in Karnataka is becoming shriller, the private schools in Arunachal Pradesh have decided to let students wear traditional attires once a week.

From the 2022-23 academic session, students cutting across tribes and communities will go to their educational institutes wearing traditional outfits every Monday. They, however, will not wear traditional ornaments or carry the customary machete.

The decision was taken by the Arunachal Pradesh Private Schools and Children Welfare Association at a meeting where representatives of more than 180 schools were present. The association felt the introduction of traditional dress would support the local weavers.

"There are more than 100 tribes and sub-tribes in Arunachal. We have decided that the students, including non-tribals, will go to schools by wearing their traditional dress every Monday. It will be mandatory for all students," association vice-president Tarh Jhony told this newspaper on Friday. "The students will have the freedom to wear their traditional dress, irrespective of communities. If somebody is a Nyishi, s/he will wear Nyishi dress. The Galos will wear their traditional dress. Similarly, the non-tribals will have the freedom to wear their traditional dress."

He said the Nyishi Students' Union had earlier raised this issue before the state government and a section of the parents also wanted this to be implemented. "Most parents suggested that the students wear their traditional dress once a week. This decision will contribute to the promotion of local culture and tradition," Jhony said, adding that the association would take action against any school found not abiding by the resolution.

Jhony said no religion should be reflected in the uniform of educational institutes which have students from across communities.

BIDEN URGES AMERICANS TO LEAVE UKRAINE IMMEDIATELY

US diplomat Blinken says Russian invasion could come 'any time'

WASHINGTON

UNITED STATES President Joe Biden urged Americans to leave Ukraine immediately, as his top diplomat said on Friday that a Russian invasion could come "any time" — including during the Winter Olympics, which end in nine days.

With Moscow continuing to amass tens of thousands of troops on the Ukraine border, and talks to avoid war making little headway, Biden issued a stark warning for US citizens to get out. "American citizens should leave, should leave now," Biden told NBC News. "We're dealing with one of the largest armies in the world. This is a very different situation and things could go crazy quickly."

On the other side of the world in Melbourne, his Secretary of State Antony Blinken huddled with Asia-Pacific allies, stressing that Russian President Vladimir Putin may be days, or even hours away from launching a war in continental Europe. "We're in a window when an invasion could begin at any time, and to be clear that includes during the Olympics," Blinken said, brushing aside suggestions that the veteran Russian leader would wait until the Beijing Games end on February 20 to avoid upstaging his Chinese allies. "Simply put, we continue to see very troubling signs of Russian escalation," Blinken said.

Observers have described the gathering of Russian forces on three of Ukraine's flanks as the largest show of force since the Soviet Army marched on Berlin at the end of World War II. Some US estimates put the number of Russian soldiers at 1,30,000, grouped in dozens of combat brigades. On Thursday, Russia rolled its tanks across Belarus for live-fire drills. Washington has said that around 30,000 soldiers were involved, coming from locations that included Russia's Far East. Russia has also sent six warships through the Bosphorus for naval drills on the Black Sea and the neighboring Sea of Azov.

Kyiv condemned their presence as an "unprecedented" attempt to cut off Ukraine from both seas. Kyiv has launched its own military drills expected to mirror Russia's games, but officials have said little about them out of apparent fear of escalating tensions.

With the drumbeat of war growing louder, the already intense push by European leaders to find a diplomatic solution gained a new sense of urgency. Russia is seeking written guarantees that NATO will withdraw its presence from eastern Europe and never expand into Ukraine. The United States and its European allies have officially rejected Russia's demands.

"Difficult talks" between German, Russian, Ukrainian and French representatives broke late on Thursday, with the quartet agreeing to meet again in March.

Blinken has insisted that the US "would strongly prefer to resolve the differences" with Russia "through diplomacy". "We've made every possible effort to engage Russia," he said. "But at the same time, we've been very clear in building deterrence and building defense and making it clear to Russia that if it chooses the path of renewed aggression, it will face massive consequences." AFP

NATO CHIEF WARNS OF 'REAL RISK' OF WAR

NATO chief Jens Stoltenberg warned on Friday of the "real risk for a new armed conflict in Europe". A total of 1,000 additional US troops are arriving in Romania this week, while more troops are also being sent to other eastern European countries. "There is a real risk for a new armed conflict. The number of Russian troops are going up, and the warning time is going down," Stoltenberg said after visiting the Mihail Kogalniceanu base near the Black Sea with Romanian President Klaus Iohannis. "At the same time we don't have any certainty, and hence continue to reach out to Russia to call on them to deescalate and to engage in good faith in political dialogue with NATO and allies," he added.

Ukraine plays down US evacuation call

Ukraine on Friday played down US President Joe Biden's call on Americans to leave immediately, stressing it was not a sign of an imminent Russian invasion. Ukrainian Foreign Minister Dmytro Kuleba said Biden was simply restating earlier guidance from the US State Department. "There is nothing new in this statement. We know the position of the United States, which has already made such statements," Kuleba told reporters. "They have already started evacuating some of their embassy staff and family members. This statement is not evidence of some radical change of the situation."

Will continue to support ASEAN partners in efforts to uphold peace, says Jaishankar

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

"WE will continue to support our ASEAN partners in their efforts to uphold peace, stability and prosperity in the region. It is important to recognise and reiterate their centrality," said India's External Affairs Minister Dr S Jaishankar during the Foreign Ministers' Quad (Quadrilateral Security Dialogue) Meet in Melbourne on Friday.

India continues to pursue an agile and multi-dimensional strategy towards the Indo-Pacific through bilateral frameworks, while cooperating with regional organisations such as ASEAN, Jaishankar said. He added that since the Quad leaders' last interaction in February 2021, the the geopolitical and geo-economic global scenario has become more complex.

"As leading democracies, we have a shared vision of upholding a rules-based international order, free from coercion and based on respect for territorial integrity and sovereignty, rule of law, transparency, freedom of navigation in the international seas and peaceful resolution of disputes," he said.

The Quad vaccine initiative has been very crucial in the Indo-Pacific for countries to meet the challenges, he said. Steps have been taken to propagate resilient supply chains and trusted critical technologies, climate action and education linkages, he added.

"Taking forward the positive agenda that our leaders endorsed last year, we will take steps to strengthen our existing people-to-people linkages through education programmes and think-tank dialogues as we conclude this very timely, valuable interaction. We will work together to give shape and substance to the Quad's positive agenda to make it — in the words of my Prime Minister, Narendra Modi — 'a force for global good'," Jaishankar said. Meanwhile, Australia has declared that it will invest $4.3 million to support relationships across the LNG supply chain between Australia, India and Bangladesh. ENS

Row over Trump's treatment of documents

WASHINGTON

DOCUMENTS ripped up, stuffed down the toilet or carted off to Florida — the list of former US leader Donald Trump's alleged flouting of laws on preserving presidential papers are growing longer and more bizarre.

Trump's shredding of many previously accepted norms of presidential decorum was part of his populist attraction to Republican supporters. But now the National Archives, which is in charge of preserving presidential records, reportedly wants Trump investigated over, among other things, his habit of literally tearing up White House papers while in office.

According to The Washington Post, the Archives requested the Justice Department open a probe into Trump's practices. This came after the government records office confirmed on Monday that it had recovered 15 boxes of documents from Trump's Florida estate, taken with him when he left Washington following his reelection defeat. According to a report in The Washington Post on Thursday, citing anonymous sources, these documents included highly classified documents marked top secret and meant only for a small number of people with the necessary clearance. AFP

Govt shortlists 20 firms under ₹26k-cr PLI scheme for auto sector

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE Centre on Friday approved 20 names from the automotive sector, including Hyundai Motor India, Mahindra & Mahindra and Tata Motors, for its ambitious Production Linked Incentive (PLI) Scheme which is aimed towards boosting domestic manufacturing and bridging supply chain constraints.

India's largest carmaker Maruti Suzuki is not in the list. According to sources, the carmaker had withdrawn applications in favour of its parent company Suzuki Motor after it could not meet the criteria. Co-incidentally, Ford Motor is selected even after the US carmaker had closed its manufacturing facility in India last year.

Other big names include Suzuki, Kia, Eicher, PCA Automobiles, Pinnacle Mobility Solutions and Ashok Leyland, and top two-wheeler makers such as Bajaj Auto, Hero MotoCorp, TVS Motor and Piaggio Vehicles. Ola Electric and Hop Electric have also been selected under the new non-automotive investor category.

A total of 115 companies had applied for the ₹25,938-crore scheme, notified in Sept 2021, which claims to offer incentives of up to 18% to automakers.

"This PLI scheme for automotive sector along with the already launched PLI scheme for Advanced Chemistry Cell (ACC) and Faster Adoption of Manufacturing of Electric Vehicles (FAME) will enable India to leapfrog from traditional fossil fuel based automobile transportation system to environmentally cleaner, sustainable, advanced and more efficient Electric Vehicles (EV) based system," said Ministry of Heavy Industries in a statement.

Saurabh Agarwal, Partner, Automotive Sector at EY, said that the real benefit of the auto PLI would be to the successful applicants who are able to achieve the 50% localisation criteria.

PLI for food processing sector

New Delhi: The Ministry of Food Processing Industries has formulated the Production Linked Incentive Scheme (PLI) scheme for the food processing industry with an outlay of `10,900 crore, Minister of State for Food Processing Prahlad Singh Patel said in a written reply in Rajya Sabha on Friday. The PLI for Food Processing Industry has been formulated by the ministry to enhance India's manufacturing capabilities and exports. The scheme has three broad components. Firstly, the scheme aims at incentivising manufacturing of four major food product segments — ready to cook/ready to eat (RTC/ RTE) including millet-based foods, processed fruits and vegetables, marine products and mozzarella cheese. As a second component, it includes incentivising innovative/organic products of SMEs across all four product segments including free range - eggs, poultry meat and egg products. Third component involves supporting marketing and branding abroad to incentivise Indian brands. The scheme was notified on May 2, 2021.

'Took capex route for multiplier effect'

ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

FINANCE minister Nirmal Sitharaman on Friday told the parliament that the government opted for spending through the capex route because of the high multiplier effect it has on the economy.

Responding to debate on the Budget in the Rajya Sabha, the finance minister said that every ₹1 spent on capex has a multiplier effect of ₹2.45 worth of multiplier in the immediate year, and ₹3.14 worth of effect in the following years.

Spending through revenue expenditure does not give the much needed multiplier effect in the economy... to sustain growth, we had to choose to spend on public capital expenditure —Nirmala Sitharaman, Finance Minister

On the other hand, she explained that every ₹1 spent in revenue expenditure gives 45 paise multiplier effect in the immediate year, and in the year next it gives an additional 10 paisa multiplier. "So spending through revenue expenditure does not give the much needed multiplier effect in the economy. Therefore, to sustain growth, we had to choose to spend on public capital expenditure," she said in her response.

The opposition has criticised the government for not allocating much to sectors like health and education. The government has increased the capex allocation for FY23 by 34.5% to ₹7.5 lakh crore from ₹5.5 lakh crore in FY22. However, of the ₹7.5 lakh crore, ₹1 lakh crore has been set aside for states in the form of 50-year loan.

The government has allocated ₹1.04 lakh crore to health in 2022-23 against ₹93,224 crore in the previous year. Health had got ₹86,606 crore against an allocation of ₹74,602 crore in 2021-22.

Allocation to Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Scheme (MNREGS) has been kept at ₹72,000 crore same as last year's budget. Though, the allocation in 2021-22 had to be revised to ₹97,000 crore.

On the criticism for not giving higher allocation to MNREGS, the finance minister said that MNEGS is a demand driven scheme, and the allocation would be increased if there is more demand for jobs in rural areas under the scheme.

Industrial output in Dec grows least in 10 months

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

INDUSTRIAL activities continue to be sluggish as the Index of Industrial Production (IIP) showed just a 0.4% year-on-year growth compared to 1.4% growth registered in November.

The IIP had contracted by 3% in December 2020. As per the data released by the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation (MoSPI) on Friday, the index is up around 15.2% on a cumulative basis in April-December 2021 compared to April-December 2020. However, at 0.4%, IIP growth in December is the slowest in 10 months.

In December, the IIP for the mining, manufacturing and electricity sectors stand at 120.3, 138.8 and 162.5 respectively. Manufacturing sector contracted by 0.1% y-o-y in December 2021. The mining and electricity sectors witnessed growth of 2.6% and 2.8% respectively in Dec. The capital goods contracted by -4.6%, consumer durables by-2.7% and non-consumer durable by -0.6%.

"The contraction in capital goods, consumer durables and consumer non-durables, along with a feeble growth in the remaining categories ranging from 0.3% to 2.8% in Dec2021, add heft to the MPC's decision to remain growth supportive in light of the incomplete recovery," ," said Aditi Nayar from ICRA.

Interim probe report in two weeks: BharatPe CEO

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

FINTECH firm BharatPe CEO Suhail Sameer has said that an interim report by review partners will be out in a couple of weeks. In a letter to employees, a copy of which is with TNIE, Sameer said that many of the findings of the review are pretty standard, there are a "couple of more allegations, which the review is still substantiating."

BharatPe has been under the spotlight ever since an audio clip purportedly showing Ashneer Grover abusing a bank employee for failing to secure allocation of shares in Nykaa's IPO, went viral.

Soon after this, Grover and his wife Madhuri Grover took a voluntary leave of absence from the company. Also, Grover has been accused of financial fraud and the fintech board has initiated a complete audit of the governance processes.

While we don't need to raise capital for a foreseeable future, it is great to know that both existing investors as well as potential new ones are keen to further support us, if we need the capital

Suhail Sameer, BharatPe CEO

BharatPe CEO Suhail Sameer has told employees to trust the board. "Whatever the board will decide, will be beyond doubt, in the best interests of our employees, our merchants and our consumers," he said.

The board of BharatPe is conducting an independent audit of the company's internal processes and systems through its legal firm, Shardul Amarchand and Mangaldas, which has appointed Alvarez and Marsal, a leading management consultant and risk advisory firm to advise the board on its recommendations.

On the business front, he said the company is witnessing stellar lending collection performance. "A couple of fab products ready to launch. We hit the annualised TPV run-rate of $16 billion in December, and are already back at that run-rate in February despite many markets still impacted with Covid," he said.

Sameer also told employees that they have huge amounts of cash in the bank. It has $500 million in the bank (including $100 million in Unity SFB).

"We have 4x the money in the bank than what we have spent so far to build BharatPe in the last 3+ years... we are still getting 2-3 new inbound conversation requests every week from funds looking to invest in us. While we don't need to raise capital for a foreseeable future, it is great to know that both existing investors as well as potential new ones are keen to further support us, if we need the capital," he added in the communication to employees.

Founded in 2018, BharatPe is targeting to reach $30 billion TPV on payments through both QR and Swipe by March 2023.

RUPEE PLUNGES TO ITS 2-MONTH LOW

RAM SAHGAL @ Mumbai

THE rupee posted its steepest absolute fall in over two months on Friday in response to RBI's dovish policy stance amid raging inflation in global markets like the US, where consumer prices rose to a 40-year high in January.

The local currency fell by nearly 36 paise to the dollar to close at 75.32, a day after RBI left the rate at which it sucks out liquidity from the banking system unchanged, much against financial market expectations.

This was the steepest fall since November 26, when the rupee tumbled 56 paise to the greenback on heavy foreign investor selling, which drove down the Nifty by 510 points over a single session, cited Rohit Srivastava, founder, IndiaCharts.

"Outflows are being witnessed in both domestic debt and equity markets by foreign investors this month on concerns of a stronger dollar (weaker rupee) which reduces their returns in dollar terms," said Lakshmi Iyer, CIO — Debt and Head — Products at Kotak Mahindra AMC. "That's one of the reasons for persistent weakness."

Last month FIIs (foreign institutional investors) sold $4.46 bn of Indian equities while net buying debt of $0.7 bn. In February so far, they've sold $1.34 bn of equities and $0.35bn of fixed income, NSDL data till February 10 shows.

Weekly dollar-rupee derivatives data shows support for the local unit at 75.80 and resistance at 75.25.

US inflationary fears spook equity markets in India

INDIAN indices tumbled Friday on cues from the Dow Jones, which fell overnight after data showed consumer prices rose the most in 40 years, causing the dollar to rise against the rupee.

The Nifty and the Sensex fell 1.3% each as domestic institutional investors sold shares worth a provisional ₹697 crore and foreign investors sold futures contracts on the Nifty and Bank Nifty worth a net ₹1,053 crore even as their cash purchases were a tepid ₹108 crore.

A total of ₹3.9 lakh crore of investors' wealth was wiped out led by falls in IT majors and cement counters such as Infosys, Wipro, Tech Mahindra, HCL Technologies and UltraTech Cement, which fell between 2% and 3%.

Inflationary fears in the US and Europe are likely to cast a shadow on emerging market equities in the coming sessions. "The US inflation at 7.5%, a multi-year high, and the probability of the Fed getting soon into a tightening mode, dampened the sentiment in overseas markets, especially in the US and Europe , and these movements are getting reflected in the domestic market as well," said Joseph Thomas, research head, Emkay Wealth Management. Immediate support for the Nifty is at 17100 and resistance at 17400-17500. ENS

"We had a strong finish to the year as we surpassed $100 million in quarterly revenue and achieved 44% year-over-year growth in the fourth quarter," said Girish Mathrubootham, CEO and founder of Freshworks.

Freshworks said GAAP loss from operations for 2021 was $204.8 million compared to $56.1 million in 2020.

Bharti Airtel-backed OneWeb deploys 34 low earth orbit satellites; total 428

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

BHARTI Airtel-backed OneWeb on Friday announced that it has deployed 34 satellites by Arianespace from the Guiana Space Centre in Kourou, French Guiana.

With this launch, the Low Earth Orbit (LEO) satellite communications company brings its total in-orbit constellation to 428 satellites.

"OneWeb confirmed the successful deployment of 34 satellites by Arianespace from the Guiana Space Centre in Kourou, French Guiana. This launch is the company's first in 2022 and 13th overall.

OneWeb has now launched two thirds of the LEO satellite fleet that is geared to deliver high-speed, low-latency global connectivity.

It represents 66% of OneWeb's planned 648 LEO satellite fleet that will deliver high-speed, low-latency global connectivity," said the company in a statement.

Most recently, the company has signed new distribution partnership pacts with several companies last month, including Hughes Network Systems, Marlink, and Field Solutions Holdings, to help ensure connectivity is delivered to the most hard-to-reach places globally.

The demand for OneWeb's broadband connectivity services has continued to grow across telecommunications providers, aviation and maritime markets, ISPs (internet service providers), and governments globally, the company informed.

"Our first launch of the year marks our significant progress in completing a truly global LEO network later in 2022," said Neil Masterson, OneWeb Chief executive Officer.

India Cements' standalone net profit at ₹3.30 cr in Q3

INDIA Cements reported a standalone profit for the quarter ending December 31, 2021 at ₹3.30 crore.

The compnay's performance in the third quarter was impacted by record monsoon in the southern states with consequent flooding in several areas that resulted in stalling of the construction activities as well as downward movement in selling prices in the east and north east markets from where the company withdrew as the sales became unremunerative.

For the nine-month period ending December 31, 2021, standalone profits slipped to ₹62.69 crore from ₹150.41 crore registered a year ago. The company achieved ₹110 crore earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortisation (EBIDTA) as compared to ₹218 crore in the same quarter of the previous year. The fall in earnings was caused by the reduction in volume and increase in input costs.

The recovery of the cement industry in the south, which was witnessed in the first six months, hit a roadblock due to record rains. The main markets — Maharashtra, Kerala, Tamil Nadu and Karnataka — continued to be on the list of active Covid cases during the quarter under review, company Vice Chairman and Managing Director N Srinivasan said. ENS

Rahul, Axar out of T20Is against West Indies

KL Rahul and Axar Patel were on Friday ruled out of the three-match T20I series against the West Indies 16 due to injuries with Ruturaj Gaikwad and Deepak Hooda replacing them in the squad. While Rahul has suffered a hamstring injury while fielding in the second ODI, Axar has not fully recovered from his shin injury and is in the final stages of rehabilitation.

Bowlers deliver clinical win as India finish 3-0

AGENCIES @ Ahmedabad

ROHIT Sharma's tenure as India ODI captain began with a 3-0 demolition of the West Indies after the impressive hosts put up an all-round performance to win the third game by 96 runs here on Friday. Shreyas Iyer's responsible 80 coupled with Rishabh Pant's aggressive 56 powered India to a challenging 265 in the inconsequential fixture. The hosts then shot out their opponents for 169 in 37.1 overs as the visitors continued their dismal batting show.

With one eye on the 2023 ODI World Cup, the Indian team management gained plenty of positives including the emergence of pacer Prasidh Krishna, who took nine wickets in the series. Deepak Chahar, playing his first game of the series, struck twice in the fifth over.

Brief scores: India 265 all out in 50 ovs (Shreyas 80, Pant 56) bt WI 169 in 37.1 ovs (Smith 36; Prasidh 3/27).

First he sent back Brandon King (14), who edged to Suryakumar Yadav in the slip cordon and then on the last ball of the over, removed Shamarh Brooks (0), leaving the visitors at 25/3. West Indies could not recover from there on. Earlier, Shreyas and Pant resurrected the India innings with their 110-run stand after India suffered a top-order collapse to be reeling at 42/3.

After his fifty, Shreyas upped the ante as he and Pant completed their 100-run stand. Pant too notched up his fifth ODI 50 with a single.

But in the 30th over, he perished and Suryakumar (6) followed suit, as India lost half their side for 164. Shreyas played his shots at will before getting out in the 38th over. However, Chahar (38) and Washington Sundar (33) propelled India past the 260-run mark.

IPL2022: 601 PLAYERS, 10 TEAMS & ₹561.5 CRORE

VENKATA KRISHNA B @ Chennai

It has been 15 years since the sport saw for the first time what has been a regular occurrence every year now. And Richard Medley, the auctioneer remembers vividly how the entire world looked at it. This was a practice that existed in the 19th century, and according to a report in CNN, continues from time-to-time in African countries where slaves are auctioned. Human beings being auctioned is seen as nothing but a violation of human rights. Yet, it is the forefront and the headline making event in what is now amongst the most-watched event in the world, the Indian Premier League.

In an interaction with Indian cricketer R Ashwin, Medley recounts how it was ahead of the first IPL player auctions. "No I haven't (auctioning humans). I'm not sure if any auctioneer has since perhaps the slave auctions of the 19th century. So it was a new concept to me when back in the day, somebody said we're going to dream up this new concept to revolutionise cricket, we are going to sell of franchises and then auction off the players. And lets face it, most people that we were mad," Medley said in Ashwin's YouTube show.

Over the next 48 hours – Saturday and Sunday — the rest of the world's eyeballs will be in Bengaluru, where a total of 601 players will be auctioned. For several weeks, the 10 franchises, have been busy with their homework. Some were still in a huddle as late as Friday evening, trying to get their math right.

Deep down everyone know it is beyond their control. No matter how many times they stimulate the auction process, or went through the mock auctions in their respective board rooms, it is hard to second guess who the other franchises are after.

For all the unpredictability, there is a method to it. Through AI and data, franchises have become smarter. Some are yet to crack it, but with each experience, have only got better. So, this would be an acid test for a few franchises. For a league that has evolved into a global phenomenon, that it still adopts what is seen as a process from a bygone era beggars belief, especially when other leagues have a draft system in place. In this draft system, there is no auction. Instead franchises are allotted a certain budget through which they are free to pick their choice in an order based on the price at which they bought the team or where they finished in league table the previous season.

The reason why the IPL persists with the auction system is, it actually acts as a curtain raiser for the event months before it starts.

In simple terms, it is the beginning of another season, one which the broadcasters are able to milk money.

While some franchises have a model in place which they try to follow as much as possible, the inclusion of two new teams and the budget available make for an interesting couple of days. While franchises are known to spend big with name, talent, reputation having no relevance to it — remember Chris Gayle has gone unsold twice in full player auctions — this time the challenge is to put together a balanced squad.

Going by the IPL insiders and the demand factor, all things point out to an open auction with some keen on going for players they let go. While players will definitely go beyond the premium, prices may not be as huge as what one will see in small auctions.

With this likely to be the last full auction, the franchises are also on the look-out for format specific players, who will be available throughout the season.

With the tournament set to extend the match-days from 2023 season, some of the all-format players may not be able to play all matches. Which is why, some franchises are looking at T20 specialists, who are in abundance these days.

It is time for new millionaires!

Couacaud living his on-court dream

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

GROWING up in the picturesque Mauritius, known majorly for its beaches, Enzo Couacaud, ranked 161 in the ATP currently, had a tough call to make as a 14-year-old. The French-Mauritian player could stay back in his home country and enjoy a nice life or move to France and pursue his tennis dream. Enzo, who learned to play in his home country, chose the latter, wanting to see if the move would work in his tennis development.

Enzo knew training in France would open the window of opportunities for him. Initially, he gave himself a year in France and its new lifestyle. It worked gradually as realised that he could give it a shot on the tour. With a couple of Challenger titles against his name, including the Gran Canaria title last year, things seem to be moving in the right direction. Enzo was also given a wild card at the 2021 French Open, and he defeated Egor Gerasimov in the first round before losing to Pablo Carreño Busta in the second. The French professional player is also making the right noises at the Bengaluru Open. He secured a semifinal spot after top seed Jiri Vesely quit his match due to stomach ache. Enzo was leading 6-4 in the first set then. In fact, travelling for tournaments has been a regular thing for the player, who listened to his elder brother while making an important choice — home or abroad.

"If you stay in Mauritius, you cannot play on the tour. It is too far away to go and play tournaments, it also gets very expensive. Everything is a ten hours flight and so on. My elder brother had the same choices as I had, but he was scared to leave Mauritius. When the chance came to me some years later, I also did not want to go. But, my brother pushed me as he regrets that he did not go. He helped me a lot to make the decision," said Enzo, who spent four years at the Mouratoglou Tennis Academy in France.

Myneni-Ramanathan in doubles final

Third seeds Saketh Myneni and Ramkumar Ramanathan have reached the finals of the doubles event, defeating Jay Clarke and Marc Polmans (AUS) 6-4, 6-4 on Friday. They will meet the French pair Hugo Grenier and Alexandre Muller in the title decider on Saturday.

50 for Chhetri, but Hyderabad beat Bengaluru in ISL

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

WHEN Bengaluru FC faced Hyderabad FC at the GMC Athletic Stadium in Bambolim on Friday, it was always expected to be one of the big tests for the Blues in recent times.

The Nizams have been one of the consistent teams in the league this season while the Blues, on an unbeaten nine match streak, were a team on the up. Both teams, on the top half of the table, were looking to outsmart the other on the pitch with their quality.

But things did not go according to plan for Marco Pezzaiuoli and his men as they lost 1-2 with Javier Siviero (16') and Joao Victor (30') scoring for Hyderabad.

For Bengaluru, Sunil Chhetri scored a late goal, which was his 50th in the league, helping him become the first person in the competition to achieve this feat. However, the loss took away the shine from Chhetri's historic landmark. With this result, Hyderabad have 29 points from 16 games, four more than second-placed Jamshedpur FC who have played two matches less. Bengaluru remain third with 23 points from 16 outings.

Delhi High Court suspends TTFI, to name admin

AGENCIES @ New Delhi

THE Delhi High Court on Friday directed the appointment of an administrator to run the Table Tennis Federation of India, saying that its faith was shaken in view of the sports body's 'sorry state of affairs'. Justice Rekha Palli, who was dealing with the petition filed by CWG gold medallist Manika Batra, said that the report of the three-member committee, constituted by it to look into the allegations of match-fixing levelled by the paddler, showed that TTFI 'safeguarded the interests of its officials' and that 'instead of promoting players, TTFI is dictating terms'. The name of the administrator and other relevant details about the appointment will be given in the court order.

As private chef to Bollywood stars Ranbir Kapoor and Alia Bhatt, this Bengalurean whips up a variety of meals for the couple, including bisi bele bath, idli and dosae

TASTY TALES

A year ago if you had told chef Ramaskanda Shastry that he'd be the private chef to Bollywood stars, the 25-year-old might have dismissed it. But that's exactly how things have panned out for the young chef who grew up in south Bengaluru. Now, living in Mumbai as the private chef to Ranbir Kapoor and Alia Bhatt, Shastry is getting a glimpse into the lives of movie stars.

Living at the couple's home in Mumbai, Shastry is on call 24/7. "I love it. I love that I have the liberty and freedom to cook in a private kitchen for stars like Ranbir and Alia," he says, adding that they are very experimental in their flavours.

While the stars' professions are such that they are always following calorie-restricted diets, Shastry is used to working around with such requirements. "Both Alia and Ranbir are open to experimentation, which means that they are willing to try something new that I prepare. Alia loves cheela and Ranbir loves any home-style food. When he wants a cheat meal though, he craves some good pasta," explains Shastry, who points out that the couple doesn't cook and leaves it to him to whip up their meals. He has also made south Indian dishes for them, some dosae, idli and sambhar. "They love it. In fact, Ranbir quite enjoys it when I make bisi bele bath for him," he says with pride.

Growing up, Shastry had two passions — music and cooking. While he's a trained Carnatic classical musician who has collaborated with city-band Beat Gurus, in 2014, he decided to take his love for cooking to a professional level and went to study at Welcomgroup Graduate School of Hotel Administration (WGSHA), a constituent unit of Manipal Academy of Higher Education, Manipal. Post graduation, he worked in commercial kitchens before taking up this role.

"I've been working for them for the last six months. I started assisting chef Harsh Dixit two years ago and it's through him that I got this gig."

So, what is life like as a private chef? "It's not bad at all. I'm available throughout the day and I prefer to work all week too. In case I do take time off, I make sure that I keep the recipes simple so the substitute staff can prepare the meal without hassle. When the couple is travelling for work, I usually accompany them and work out of a kitchen from there," he says, adding, "In a commercial kitchens, you have a lot of people to help you out which is great. You also cook in large quantities. But it takes a lot of hard work and time to reach the level you want to, and sometimes when you do reach that stage, you don't get to cook anymore. I don't have such a barrier as a private chef here."

The young chef is looking at this role as one that will steer his personal growth. "I am not restricted to making only one type of cuisine or one task in the kitchen. Apart from their diet restrictions, I have the freedom to cook from across kitchens," he says. When Ranbir and Alia have friends over, Shastry puts on his thinking cap. "If it's about 10 people or less, I prepare the food. That's always fun," he says, adding that Ranbir and Alia treat him like family. "They are very humble and I love that about them."

1. These two eateries in Bengaluru have its name composed of alliterations – both words start with the same alphabet. The first word is a city name. One is a snack place, while the other is a restaurant with a Dhaba-style menu. Can you name the places?

2. There are another two restaurants in Bengaluru with a city name in it, both started by the same brand. They are known for their flavours and old-school recipes with a twist, pauwa cocktails and beautiful decor. Which two places are we referring to?

3. These two places are known for fresh, good, quick simple fare which people queue up to eat, and both these places offer it at an amazing price point, and great quality. They have a loyal following, and the food is worth the wait. Not quite an alliteration, but begins with the same alphabet on the English script. Hint: One is in Jayanagar, and the other in HSR Layout. Can you guess the names?

B'luru teen who participated in the National Winter Games, in Uttarakhand recently, about her passion for skiing and her dream to represent India at the Olympics

SANATH PRASAD

JIAH Aryan was six when she first saw skiers in Kashmir and was fascinated by the sport. Seven years later in 2022, she was the only participant from Karnataka to represent the National Skiing and Snowboard Championship at Auli, Uttarakhand. The race was held between Feb 7 and Feb 9, amidst heavy snow where Jiah crashed towards the 70 per cent mark of the race slope, going onto finish the race in fourth place at the Giant Slalom event.

Her mother Janvi Aryan explains that the snow was hard, cutting down the visibility. However, Jiah believes that defeats are common and that she is now working on devising better strategies to move ahead in her upcoming races.

Although her father Aryan Indira Chandrashekar pursued skiing as a passion, it was Jiah who picked up an interest in serious and competitive skiing. "I took skiing in 2019 when I did my intermediate skiing course and my mind started getting more serious about it. Once you get hooked onto skiing, it's almost impossible to leave it," says the 13-year-old student.

Aryan missed a gold by a whisker, but ended up with a silver during the alpine skiing at the Junior Nationals Skiing and Snowboard competition held at Gulmarg last year.

Currently, she trains from 9am to 5pm every day and practices 30 runs in India. However, she practices more than 50 runs in Serbia, where she is being trained under Janko Vukadinovic, an international skiing coach. In India, she is training under Bilal Ahmed, and her mother believes that she accelerates from 50 km to 77 km per hour. "At shorter turns, I clock over 50-60 km per hour, but at longer turns I clock at least 80km per hour," says Jiah, who wants to represent India at the Olympics and the world cup.

Her father Chandrashekar, who is currently funding her training says, "Skiing demands a lot of flexibility and acclimatising oneself to different weather conditions. And Jiah has picked up these qualities early on." At the end of February, she is going to train at Montenegro and then represent India in six international races in her age group. The race will be held in the month of March, in Bosnia, Serbia and Montenegro.

I took to skiing in 2019 when I did an intermediate course, and my mind started getting more serious about it. Once you get hooked onto skiing, it's almost impossible to give it up

BADDHA PARIVRTTA PARSVAKONASANA

(BOUND REVOLVED SIDE ANGLE POSE)

In Sanskrit, 'baddha' means bound, 'parivrtta' means twist, 'parsva' means side, 'kona' means angle and 'asana' means posture. In this asana, while the base pose is Utthita Parsvakonasana (Extended Side Angle Pose), the torso is in a twist while the arms are in a bind around the extended leg. This asana is considered an advance pose, the twisting needs effort using the flexibility of the shoulder muscles. Any twists with a bind need slow progress while understanding both the body and the active muscles involved. This asana helps boost energy in the body and hence, can be included in flow yoga sequences.

STEPS

- Start in Parivrtta Trikonasana.
- Exhale and bend the right knee as you twist towards the right, lifting the left heel off the floor.
- Inhale and take the left arm below and around the left thigh. Exhale and take the right arm from behind the shoulders and chest. Pulling the belly in as you exhale, twist deeper towards the right and interlock the hands.
- Hold the pose and take 3-4 deep and slow breaths.
- With the foot and knee in alignment, look up.
- Now, release and relax coming back to Utthita Tadasana.
- Relax, and repeat the same with the other side.
- Stay for about 3-4 breaths, ensuring the stretch is the same as the right side. Release and relax coming back to Utthita Tadasana.

BENEFITS

- Increases range of motion; keeps involved muscles active, strong, flexible and supports respective organs.
- Encourages the glands to function well keeping the various systems in the body active, healthy, and fresh.
- Qualities of self-confidence, trust, and endurance are activated.
- Breathing from the upper body comes naturally when the arms are in a bind as the chest opens.

LIMITATIONS

- Avoid this, if injured at the shoulders, lower back, neck, hips, spine, a slip disc, knees and if pregnant.
- People recovering from a surgery should avoid this.
- If you have a history of heart-related ailments or have hypertension, avoid.

Mini party pack from Samosa Party

NIGHT NIBBLES

With people binge watching shows and working from home, midnight orders are on the rise; cashing in on this are cloud kitchens which are staying open all night

ANILA KURIAN

A bowl of ice cream, custard, or some leftover samosas from an evening snack once doubled up as a midnight snack. But the scene is changing in Bengaluru with restaurants catering to a new crowd — those indulging in midnight cravings. Now, many restaurants, in fact, have a separate category called 'Late Night'. To serve this crowd, many kitchens are now open through the night. With people binge watching and no early morning travel to the office or school, there has been a cultural shift. Brands like Samosa Party have stats to show how they've been selling an average of 1.5 lakh samosas between midnight and 3 am. They used to open their kitchen at 8 am but are now open from 3 am to 3 pm. Cloud kitchens too have changed their business model to suit this new concept. This, in many ways is changing Bengaluru as a city with deliveries happening through the night.

According to Amit Nanwani, co-founder of Samosa Party, the trend of ordering late at night doesn't only apply to weekends anymore. This is seen throughout the week, but there's about a 20 to 30 per cent rise on Fridays. People are staying awake to either binge watch shows or are working," he says, adding that their party pack of mini samosas has been a hot favourite."

The work-from-home model and flexible working hours is one of the reasons for this change in lifestyle, feel brands. Amrut Mehta, director of the Little Italy group of restaurants, explains people are working more hours than before, especially at odd hours.

"This has given rise to orders at unusual hours. These orders are more to fulfil one's cravings than the requirement of having a nourishing meal," he says, adding, "We are noticing the orders to be more of an indulgence, like extra cheesy pizza or pasta or a dessert. As a restaurateur, it's great that working individuals reward themselves at the end of the day."

Food aggregators like Swiggy have added a section called 'Late Night' where they've collaborated with brands to offer items at a discounted rate or have special offers. Burger Seigneur has seen a 12 per cent rise in midnight orders. "There's a large group of people which crave desserts. When they see a 40 per cent discount on pastries, they want to order and indulge their sweet tooth. This trend is something we've noticed among young working people," explains Naufal Verkumb, director of the brand.

Appetisers and main courses are also a hot favourite with customers. Director of Gawky Goose, Dr Kiran Kumar, says, "Our in-house cocktail mix has become very popular among customers. It's a pre-made mix that you can make at home. The dessert orders are on a rise after 11 pm and there are many orders for vegan and vegetarian dishes too. It is quite literally a midnight binge that customers are indulging in after a long, hard day of work."

CE FEATURES

Things get complicated when the ghost realises that their lives and destinies are intertwined on a deeper level. Family Pack, which also star Tilak and Nagabhushan, and has dialogues written by Masti. With music by Gurukiran, the film has cinematography by Uday Leela and editing by Madhu.

KRISHNA DELIVERS A PERFECT BLEND OF LOVE AND LAUGHTER

A SHARADHAA

IN his debut directorial, Love Mocktail, Krishna had brought together bittersweet ingredients of life through the stories of Adi (Krishna), Aditi (Rachana Inder), and Nidhi(Milana Nagraj). The sequel, which is coming after a gap of two years, has managed to retain the flavour of the original.

The sequel begins with Vijay aka Vijju (Abilash) and Sushma (Kushi Achar) looking for their missing friend, Adi, and they land up at the police station. The two narrate to police inspector (Giri) the events that lead Adi to this situation. Using the beautiful melody, Ninadene Januma, we are shown how Adi is still mourning the death of his wife Nidhi. However, a letter changes his whole approach to life, and he decides to give a second chance to the idea of marriage. Enters match-maker Jankana, shortly known as Junkie (Sushmitha Gowda), who presents a list of profiles. However, the proposals fall flat. Call it coincidence or destiny, Adi gets to meet his crush, Sihi (Rachel David), who happens to be Viju's relative. The story takes you back and forth across the different stages of the protagonist's life. Will Adi accept Sihi, who is going against her parents, or is he still in love with Nidhi? When Adi finally finds his peace in the soul-stirring climax, it all feels justified.

LOVE MOCKTAIL 2

Cast: Darling Krishna, Milana Nagaraj, Rachel David, Amrutha Iyengar

Director: Darling Krishna

When making a sequel, continuity is the key, and Krishna comes out largely unscathed even when he adopts an unfamiliar storyline. The romance in the film is ably balanced by the humour and sentiment elements, and Krishna structures the narrative in a rather simple way. Even the introduction of a bunch of fresh characters like Sihi, Junkie, Renu (Shwetha) and the grandfather (Ravi Seetharam), he blends them rightly with some of the characters from the original, albeit with a fresh perspective.

RATING 3.5/5

While he manages to captivate moments that matter to the heart, the film also gives an important insight into a clinical problem. Scenes with Shi's grandfather, Krishna's conversations with Renu, are all wonderful moments that elevate the narrative. The presence of Milana as Nidhi too is as fun as it is emotional. On the performance front, Krishna effortlessly continues from where he left off in Love Mocktail, and the other actors too chip in with effective performances.

Abhilash, Sushmitha, and Sushma take care of the humour parts of the film, which definitely come as a whiff of fresh air to this emotional tale.

The captivating visuals of Sri Crazyminds and Nakul Abhyankar's soulful music make Love Mocktail 2 all the more appealing.

The romcom, which ends on a sweet note, leaves the door open for a third instalment. Krishna's Love Mocktail 2, which is a good Valentine's season release, not only manages to entertain but also gives heart-warming experiences of individuals at different ages.

Shakun Batra's film really goes there

SHILAJIT MITRA

NASEERUDDIN Shah shines in Gehraiyaan. His character, Vinod, is a loner and an estranged father, much like the one he played in Zindagi Na Milegi Dobara. Young actors bolt from playing 'types'; veterans make the most of it. I'm not sure if director Shakun Batra—who has an eye for indicative casting, like putting Rishi Kapoor in a film about Kapoors—meant a connection with Zoya Akhtar's film. But I'll very well take it as one: the man who left his duties and child to roam the world is returned here in a contrasting role.

Naseer's presence has a calming effect on Shakun's film. Yet the story, which rises and falls like the shots of crashing waves, is about his onscreen daughter. Alisha (Deepika Padukone) is a fitness entrepreneur in Mumbai, six years into a stalling relationship with Karan (Dhairya Karwa). They aren't exactly poor — just unhappy about their present standing in life. Karan, a former advertiser, is struggling with a novel. Alisha supports him while waiting for her own app idea to take off. She's weary, overworked and losing sight of her dreams. "I want to live like the other half," she says in anger and frustration.

GEHRAIYAAN

Cast: Deepika Padukone, Siddhant Chaturvedi, Ananya Panday, Dhairya Karwa

Director: Shakun Batra

Streaming on: Amazon Prime Video

Doesn't Yoga clear the mind?

Alisha's cousin, Tia (Ananya Panday), invites them for a trip to her Alibaug beach house. Stepping onto a private yacht—oddly named Samara, as in the inexpensive wine—she meets Zain (Siddhant Chaturvedi), Tia's fiancé. He's into real estate, and the most unreal thing about him is his open flirting. It starts out small: the early texts, the hand on the hip. Before we know it, they're in her Mumbai apartment, kissing aggressively as their partners disperse downstairs.

It's a quick start that doesn't feel like one. The past sneaks up on these folks. The screenplay—by Shakun, Ayesha Devitre Dhillon and Sumit Roy—is more webbed than it initially appears. Alisha and Tia's dads were business partners. Something irreparable happened between them. Karan and Tia are friends from before. Zain is frosty around Tia's mom. Alisha and Zain share similar childhood traumas. The focus on family—or familial relations—is there even when the film takes a turn for the sinister. "No one will help us," Jitesh (Rajat Kapoor), Zain's business partner, reminds him. "...except family."

It's a familiar insight from the makers of Kapoor & Sons. What's unfamiliar, though, are the complex psychologies at play. Deepika has described the film as a 'domestic noir', and we come to see why. Alisha and Zain buck the trend of besotted movie leads. Their affair is viewed through, rather than despite of, their material lives. There are two complications that arrive in quick succession, at the same party. It's the best sequence in the film, fusing larger professional troubles with sudden, private ones.

RATING 3.5/5

Cinematographer Kaushal Shah accentuates the pinks and teals, in sync with a pop soundtrack. Shakun, more than ever, seems in control of his visual and sonic landscape. There is a hint of Steve McQueen's Shame—most strikingly in the hotel room scenes overlooking the sea. It's a moody, handsome production, though I wish we cut away more often from Zain and Tia's upper-crust world. The only time this happens is when the couple stops at a roadside tapri, and it's a surprise.

Deepika turns in a tough, layered performance—possibly her best since 2015's Piku. The scene where her character retreats, having caused a minor accident and unable to take the ensuing chaos, feels starkly real (as does, I'm happy to report, a shot of her and Siddhant in an Acroyoga pose). Dhairya and Ananya play fine supports; the latter, quite sportingly, sells Tia's obliviousness to a T.

The film suffers in its search for symmetry. Now and then, the dialogue buoys up with exposition. "I feel so stuck," Alisha repeats, echoing a flashback. "We'll start over," Zain says in a similar vein. As a narrative, Gehraiyaan goes commendably far for a mainstream Hindi film. But its words tend to trip up the ride. I'll rationalize it (since I liked the film) as something inherent to romances. They're never so smooth-sailing.
